

Tobacco may be helpful to health

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tobacco could turn out to be beneficial to world health, research at the Agricultural Research Service station in nearby Beltsville, Md., indicates.

Between 12 to 17 per cent of a tobacco plant is high-quality protein that can be extracted and converted to human and animal food through a process called "homogenized leaf curing," the researchers report.

At the same time, says Dr. T.C. Tso, who developed the process, some of the chemicals in tobacco that produce pollutants and unhealthy substances for smokers and nonsmokers are removed.

Tso said in a telephone interview Friday that his team currently is trying to link each element "in the smoke that is considered undesirable" with an element in the plant that can be extracted.

Some of the amino acids, the building blocks of protein, for example, are associated with cyanide compounds present, he said.

As a research scientist, he declined to speculate about the ultimate impact of the team's work whether, for example, it will lead to eliminating from cigarettes the compounds responsible for lung diseases that have brought findings that smoking is dangerous to health.

He said that growing tobacco as a source of protein alone would not be economically practical. A soybean plant, for example, contains 42 to 44 per cent protein, or proportionately about three times as much.

With no increase in tobacco acreage worldwide, Tso said, he projects a worldwide production of 12.5 billion pounds by 1985, and 20 billion pounds by 2000.

But at current yield levels, his curing process still can obtain what he said is a conservative estimate of 20 to 40 pounds of useable protein per acre.

If his projections were realized, that would mean 750 million pounds of the protein by 1985 and 1.2 billion a year by 2000.

Depending on which of the several nutritionists' standards are used, that would meet the daily protein-consumption needs of between 33 million and 63 million persons, he said.

An ARS spokeswoman said that TSO leaf-curing process was originally devised to save labor and improve the smoking quality of the tobacco. But it also makes possible the removal of a compound called Fraction-1-Protein, long known as the major soluble protein in all green plants.

Scientists have not been able to crystallize Fraction-1-Protein from any major crop except tobacco, she said, and that's only been feasible with Tso's leaf-curing process.

The process involves softening the leaf through steeping into a slurry form. The proteins are extracted and purified much the same way as sugar is crystallized out of cane or beets while the rest goes into tobacco products.

Fraction-1-Protein is pure, tasteless, odorless, colorless, chemically stable and easy to store, Tso said.

Fraction-1-Protein's nutritional value is comparable to milk and, in the gel-like form in which it can be made for food use, surpasses soybeans, the ARS spokeswoman said.

Veep debate and more and more inflation." He said the people are "looking for leadership, they yearn for leadership, and they found that leadership in President Ford."

The Republican candidate also said many of the problems, such as inequality in the tax laws Carter and Mondale cite in their campaigning, can be attributed to Congress, controlled by the Democrats for the past 22 years.

On taxes, Dole repeated a frequent Republican campaign charge that Carter advocates raising taxes for middle income families. Mondale countered that "Mr. Dole has probably the worst record in favor of loopholes of any senator in the United States Senate. Mr. Ford has one of the worst records in favor of tax loopholes in the history of the House of Representatives ... It is now possible for people of great wealth, by using complete tax sections, to avoid all or most of their taxes."

Watergate came up for the first time in any detail in any of the debates.

Dole mentioned the issue first. He was responding to a question about voter apathy, and he said, "They were turned off by Watergate. I'll say that word first."

Watergate came up again near the end when Mondale said that Dole had introduced a resolution in the Senate which attempted to require the Watergate Committee to hold its hearings in closed session.

"Well, Watergate is a Republican problem, and I voted for the Watergate investigation," said Dole. "My opponent was absent ..."

Two persons arrested on check fraud counts

Two Washington C.H. residents have been arrested and charged with check fraud as a result of two separate investigations by Washington C.H. police officers.

Barbara Hughes, 24, of 1324 Grace St., has been charged with check fraud after she allegedly passed a bad $6.60 check at the Kroger Co. store on Clinton Avenue on August 23.

Also charged with check fraud was Larry Lewis, 30, of 1250 Rawlings St., who reportedly passed a bad $14.70

check at the Sohio service station, E. Court Street, on August 20.

A $50 bicycle belonging to Ronnie Blue, 836 Washington Ave., was reported stolen from nearby the Eastside Elementary School, sometime between 3:30 and 6:30 p.m. Friday.

Employees of the Hukill Oil Co., I-71 and U.S. 35, told Fayette County sheriff's deputies that at 4:14 p.m. Friday a motorist drove away from the service station without paying for $5 worth of gasoline.

Syrian president eyes peace talks

By The Associated Press

After snubbing earlier peace talks, President Hafez Assad of Syria agreed to attend a meeting in Saudi Arabia today aimed at ending Lebanon's bloody civil war, the official Syrian news agency reported.

Assad, who has committed 21,000 soldiers on the side of Lebanese Christians battling the Palestinian guerrilla-Moslem leftist alliance, will talk in Riyadh with the presidents of Lebanon and Egypt and with Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat.

Despite the announcement, Syrian forces continued their assault on the mountain town of Alep, 10 miles east of Beirut and the last Palestinian stronghold before the capital.

Clouds of smoke rose from burning mountain forests, and Beirut residents waited nervously for Assad's forces to drive the Palestinians back into the Moslem enclave of West Beirut.

Sources estimated that more than 500 persons have been killed on all fronts in the three days since the Syrians launched fresh assaults on Palestinian positions east of Beirut and the ports of Sidon in the south and Tripoli in the north.

Saudi Arabia called the mini-summit peace conference at its capital of Riyadh. The announcement said Saudi King Khaled and the emir of Kuwait would attend, as well as Assad, Arafat and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

Sadat and Assad have been at odds ever since Egypt signed the Sinai disengagement agreement with Israel in September 1975. Assad bitterly opposed that agreement and accused Sadat of betraying the Arabs. Arafat often has appealed to Sadat for help since the Syrians intervened in Lebanon in June, but he has received no concrete support.

The announcement from Damascus that Assad would go to Riyadh suggested Syria might feel the time is ripe to write peace terms between Lebanon's warring Moslems and Christians and bring the Palestinian movement under Syrian control.

Annexation bid on board slate

The Fayette County Board of Education will study a recent petition from St. Andrew's Episcopal Church and the Rev. and Mrs. Leroy Davis that the church property be annexed to the Washington C.H. School District at Tuesday's 8 p.m. meeting.

The small tract of land is located on Ohio 41-S and is surrounded by county school district property. Rev. Davis made his request to the Washington C.H. Board of Education two weeks ago and the board approved the transfer. The matter was turned over to the state board of education for final approval.

The board is also scheduled to consider financial assistance for an FFA trip to Kansas City, discuss possible dates for graduation next spring, receive a progress report on the development of the first Annual Progress Report to Citizens and to employ substitute teachers, custodians and student workers.

Trapshoot set for October 31

Why do they watch?

The acquisition of Barbara Walters as half of the anchor team for ABC News may pay off handsomely in financial terms. The first day she teamed up with Harry Reasoner, the network's ratings took a phenomenal leap in key cities as compared with the average viewer total over the preceding four weeks.

There is an initial curiosity factor. Even so, it appears that ABC News may have struck gold in hiring a charismatic woman to help anchor its main event. The question is: Why? What is it about Barbara Walters that induces viewers to prefer watching her read the news - her beauty and charm, the simple fact that she is a woman, the glamor of that million-dollar salary? These questions touch upon a matter of some importance: the extent of genuine public interest in the news, which is central to the political process in a democracy.

A place in the TV sun

Coruscating wit has not been the hallmark of the presidential campaign debates thus far. An occasional snappy rejoinder, a few barbs, did brighten the second encounter, but nothing like the repartee that often graces debate in the British Parliament was in evidence.

This state of affairs might undergo a remarkable sea change were Eugene McCarthy successful in his efforts to get a place on the rostrum. The former Minnesota senator and two-time presidential candidate is a man of subtle and frequently scathing wit. His presence alongside President Ford and Jimmy Carter would greatly enliven the proceedings. We do not expect it to happen. We are not even sure it ought to happen. A three-man "debate" might prove awkward.

It does strike us, though, that there is much merit in McCarthy's basic position, which is that the advantages of exposure to a nationwide television audience should not be limited to the two major party candidates for president. There is no quarreling with his claim that the present system is rigged to give the Republican and Democratic standard bearers a place in the TV sun without any drain on their campaign coffers, while excluding all others from this boon.

The fiction that the debates are bona fide news events, as such exempt from equal time provisions of the Communications Act, is thin enough to serve as the Seventh Veil. Simple fairness argues for giving McCarthy and other serious, even if not very broadly supported, contenders a reasonable crack at TV exposure thus far preempted for the major party candidates.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 17

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Now to the demands of present circumstances until you have time to really plan a new and more profitable course. Sharpen your fine mental gifts.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Friends will be especially helpful now - especially in being able to supply some much needed information. Act on it immediately.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

You rarely "forget" an obligation, but right now you could overlook one through haste. Be alert to the fact and, with diligence, you will remember - and fulfill.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

You should have little opposition now unless you look for it - which you can do witlessly. Sow the seeds of good will and keep your counsel discreetly.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Be careful of details, dispel doubts

and a trend to misunderstandings. You can avoid possible friction if you are on your toes, thinking ahead every step of the way.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

If it is a day for rest, take it: Do not engage in needless activity and tire yourself beyond reason. In tasks, be thorough, but anxiety-free.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Planetary influences somewhat mixed. Be constructive in planning, tenacious in implementing. System with flexibility needed.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

You can demonstrate your ability to be original and imaginative now but, at the same time, concentrate on practicality. Sometimes even good ideas may not be immediately feasible.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Your incentive and vigor should be at a peak now. Your creative urges will also be strong, and may impel you to do something unusual and outstanding.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

You may have an annoying situation with which to deal, or some complex problem. But your optimism and know-how will turn things to advantage - if you remain up to standard.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You may have to revise some plans, change tactics, perhaps hold a conference or two. But, in the end, what you do well now will produce substantial dividends later.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Pisceans are noted for their extraordinary intuition, a gift which will prove invaluable now. A hunch could send you off into entirely new directions - with ultimate benefit and profit.

YOU BORN TODAY like the Scales which your Sign represents, are endowed with a great sense of justice; would make an excellent jurist, arbitrator or mediator. You have a great love of color and beauty but you are practical enough to realize that, unlike many other Librans, you probably could not commercialize art to any great extent. You would do much better in the theater, where you could shine as actor, producer or director. Also, you have unusual business acumen and could easily accommodate yourself to the hustle and bustle of a big corporation - and, with rather remarkable ease, rise quickly to executive status. Traits to curb:

moodiness and undue insistence on being the center of attraction.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 18

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Keep on your toes now. Sudden intrusions or interruptions in your work area will call for unusual diplomacy in handling.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Venus influences beneficent. Take advantage by pressing on toward worthwhile objectives. Occupational matters especially favored.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Face possible changes with equanimity. With YOUR know-how and ingenuity, you can cope. Romance in high favor.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

You could make a profitable financial deal but, even if asked, keep the details to yourself. Some would gladly try to take advantage of your good fortune.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Certain complexities need unravelling, and YOU can right them. A good day for handling tricky situations, mediating disputes.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

If things are not going as well as they should, do not let matters rest. Pitch in and try to get them back on the right track. A new offer may be worth looking into.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

A pleasant surprise due. You finally receive assurance that your ideas are sound and will be carried out - bringing a tremendous increase in your prestige.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Don't head into complications: steer a clear course. Speak softly, but with decisiveness, and DO avoid restlessness and impetuosity.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Focus ambitions on an attainable plateau. Don't strive for the unreasonable. Negotiations scheduled? Engage in them quietly, purposefully.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Especially favored under day's somewhat unusual but, on the whole, friendly aspects: secretarial and clerical work; mathematics, science and confidential matters.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Your ambitions can be given full rein now. Map route for the coming week along sound lines. You are in a fine position to make long-range plans.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Poise and perseverance are day's top requirements. Choose the most appropriate goal, and plan for its achievement carefully.

YOU BORN TODAY are governed by the Sign of Libra, a symbol of justice, friendship and humanitarianism. You can accomplish a great deal in a lifetime, but must learn to curb your emotions and a tendency toward excessive pride. You have a lively imagination and a great love of beauty, but may express both in intellectual forms rather than in artistic ventures. You have a talent for writing which, coupled with a strong discriminatory sense, would make you an outstanding literary or dramatic critic. In fact, the theater in general is an excellent medium for your talents. Other fields in which you could excel: the law, statesmanship, diplomacy and business counseling.

George Grogan, a Pennsylvanian, was the first English trader in Ohio and in the 1740's he had posts on the Tuscarawas, Cuyahoga and Sandusky Rivers. In 1748 Grogan and a partner met Christopher Gist in what is now Choshocton. Gist was agent for a Virginia land company, and played a big role in early Ohio dealings with the Indians. -AP

Ford pays more taxes than Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford paid a larger share of his income in taxes than did Jimmy Carter last year because Carter was able to take advantage of a tax benefit tied to improvements in his peanut operations.

A comparison of the financial information provided by the two presidential candidates showed that Ford reported gross income of $251,991 last year and Carter reported gross income of $136,139.

Ford paid total federal taxes of $94,569 in 1975, which was 38 per cent of his gross income. Carter paid taxes of $17,484, equal to 13 per cent of his gross income.

Carter was able to take advantage of a business investment tax credit to substantially reduce his taxes. He also took advantage of income-averaging features of the tax code to further reduce his taxes.

Carter has made public his tax returns from the last five years. Ford has not revealed his tax returns but has released a statement of his finances, including the amounts of tax he paid for the past 10 years.

The bulk of Carter's 1975 income, $119,244, was from his peanut-seed business, "Carter's Warehouse." He also reported $3,293 in income from his book, "Why Not The Best?"

Most of Ford's income, $200,000, was from his salary as president. He also got $50,000 from the presidential expense account.

Carter was able to reduce his taxes by claiming an investment tax credit of $41,702, equal to about 10 per cent of the $410,646 he spent for equipment for his peanut business.

While Carter has pledged to eliminate many tax shelters if elected, he says he probably would retain the investment tax credit as an incentive for business to invest.

Congress recently raised the investment tax credit from 7 per cent to 10 per cent after Ford recommended a boost. Thus, Ford indirectly contributed to a lower tax bill for Carter.

Carter also reduced his tax obligation by averaging his income over a five-year period. Since his taxable income fluctuated from a low of $50,195 in 1972 to last year's high, it was to his advantage to do so.

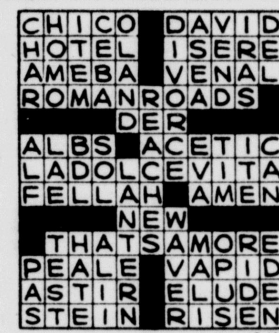

Without the income averaging and investment tax credit, Carter had a potential tax of $58,981.

Dear Abby:

Checked his guns on wedding night

DEAR ABBY: I just read about the girl who spent most of her honeymoon writing thank-you notes for her wedding gifts. Well, I've got that one beat. On my wedding night the dude I married sat up all night loading and unloading shotguns. When I finally got him to come to bed, all he did was fall asleep.

I should have known he was a dingbat right then and there, but he'd been awfully good to me before we were married; he was a perfect gentleman, and he never laid a hand on me.

He's a millionaire and hardly ever works. He bought me a car, a real fur coat and a diamond watch. I think he's a dope eater because he's high for a spell then fades fast. He's 40 and I'm 24, and have my whole life ahead of me. The big problem is that he doesn't care one thing about sex, and I do. He swore if he ever caught me with another dude, he'd kill me. I'm his fifth wife. Should I stick around or not?

EVERYTHING BUT LOVE
DEAR EVERYTHING: So far, your marriage reads like a Hitchcock thriller, but you'll have to write the ending yourself. Stick around if you like, but a man who threatens to kill is more than a dingbat. He's dangerous.

DEAR ABBY: While watching a baseball game with two of my girlfriends, some boys from another town asked us how old we were.

One girl said she was 13, and the other said she was 14. They're both 12. The girl who said she was 14 was trying to get a boyfriend. I think if a girl wants a boyfriend she should give her right age, don't you?

TWELVE AND HONEST
DEAR TWELVE: Honesty is always the best policy. Lying about one's age can become habit-forming. Teenagers add a year or two, but after 40, they start subtracting.

DEAR ABBY: With reference to the letter from the woman who said she liked her neighbors but was satisfied with her own religion and resented their trying to sell her on theirs (Mormon.)

That sweet woman had only to say to the young missionaries, "Thank you, but no thank you," and that would have been the end of it.

We as members are asked to extend friendship to neighbors, to tell them about the Gospel and to be missionaries wherever we are, in the way we live and act-by example.

Our missionaries apply no pressure, knowing that man was given his free agency to choose his own religion.

We are converts to the Church of Jesus Christ Latterday Saints, and can attest to the fact that our conversion has brought harmony, happiness and fulfillment to our entire family.

Today's birthday: Actress Angela Lansbury is 51.
Thought for today: The trouble with old age is that it comes when we are too old to enjoy it. - Anonymous.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, General George Washington called a Council of War at his Harlem Heights headquarters to decide whether to try to stay on Manhattan in the face of British landings in Westchester County which flanked the Americans.

The first Ohio legislature, composed of 14 senators and 30 members of the house, included 12 persons who had served in the preceding constitutional convention. During this initial sessions held in the new statehouse in Chillicothe, laws were enacted regulating marriages, providing for the punishment of crime, establishing the beginnings of an educational system, and dealing with the supervision of elections. -AP

Checking combine can save dollars

By JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent, Agriculture
Checking your combine efficiency may be a simple way to increase corn and soybean profits by several dollars per acre.

A simple 10-minute check of harvest losses will show how effective you are when it comes to getting every bushel produced in the bin. If your check reveals excess harvest losses it should be easy to make changes in combine adjustments and operating procedures to reduce those losses.

A reduction in soybean harvest loss by two bushel per acre will increase profits by ten and twelve per acre. On 150 acres of beans that adds up to over $1,500 increased profit.

Calculating harvest loss is a simple procedure. All you need to do is measure a 10 square foot across the swath harvested at the rear of the combine. In soybeans, an average of four beans per square foot equals about one bushel per acre.

In corn, an average of two kernels per square foot equals one bushel per acre. Corn harvest losses can really add up if the combine is not adjusted properly to shell all the corn off the cob.

Once you've checked your harvest losses compare them with the acceptable harvest losses. Desirable losses in forty bushel per acre beans should be 1.3 bushel or less per acre. In corn, the acceptable loss should range between .6 and 2.5 bushel per acre.

Losses less than these figures mean you are an expert combine operator. Losses greater than these require some additional combine adjustments.

Two leaflets available at the Extension Office explain in detail the various procedures to use in determining harvest losses at the machine head, in the cylinder, etc.

A RECENT report on 1975 Ohio Farm Income published by the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center and the Ohio Statistical Reporting Service shows estimated receipts from farm marketing in Fayette County were $43,863,000 in 1975. Over $25,000,000 came from the sale of crops.

OCTOBER 21 is the deadline for consignments to the first Washington C.H. Area Graded Feeder Calf Sale. Calves and yearlings are expected to be consigned from cow-calf producers in Fayette and six surrounding counties. This sale should provide some good quality calves to go into area feedlots fresh from local farms.

GRAIN producers will have an excellent opportunity to improve their understanding of grain marketing and available alternatives in a nine session grain marketing school this winter.

Enrollment in the school is now open and will be limited to the first 175 who sign up. The school will be held in Circleville. Enrollment fee is $25.

The Farmers Grain and Livestock Corp., headquartered in Des Moines, Iowa, has announced the appointment of a new representative in Fayette County.

Benny Backenstoe, 502 Lewis St., will be the representative in Fayette County for the corporation which is a consulting and advising firm on grain and livestock marketing procedures.

Backenstoe's duties will be explaining and assisting local farmers in understanding programs offered by the corporation. As a consulting and advising firm on marketing farm commodities, farmers can receive various alternatives from the firm which enable greater profits, Backenstoe said.

He will be working from his home in the new position.

NEW OFFICERS — The Fayette County Farm Bureau has held its first board meeting of the 1977 fiscal year and elected new officers. Wayne King, left, was elected president; David Owens, right is the vice president; and Mrs. Martha-Rose Wilson is the Secretary-treasurer. The board went on record as opposing proposed Ohio Constitutional amendments 4, 5, 6 and 7. It was the board's opinion that the measures are not in the best interests of the farming community or the majority of area residents.

Area farmers invited to college homecoming

WILMINGTON, Ohio — Southwestern Ohio farmers, farm feed and implement dealers and prospective agriculture students have been invited to join alumni and parents for a special agricultural program which is part of the Wilmington College Homecoming celebration this year.

The college's department of agriculture is planning a special "Introduction to the Wilmington College Agricultural Program" at one of the college farms on Saturday, October 30. Included will be a series of short presentations about the ag program, followed by a hog barbecue luncheon at the farm.

The entire group will then be invited back to the main campus to witness the traditional homecoming parade and football game between Wilmington and Hanover colleges.

The special ag program will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the college-owned Peelle Farm on Orchard Road, two miles north of the main campus, off Ohio 68.

Reservations for the luncheon, at $2 per person, must be received by the Department of Agriculture, Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio, 45177, before October 18. Admission to the football game is an additional $2 per person ($1 for students).

"We urge alumni who graduated from the College's ag program, parents of students currently enrolled in the ag program, prospective students, and local farmers and dealers to attend. We can promise both an informative and an entertaining time," said Don Chafin, chairman of the college's department of agriculture.

The Wilmington College homecoming celebration covers three days—October 29, 30, and 31—and has been designed for community residents, parents of students currently enrolled at the college, alumni of the college, and friends.

The three-day celebration will include special academic exhibits, several musical events including the performance of two original operas, a special discussion for parents on "Adjusting to College," plus traditional parades, bands, athletic contests, luncheons, dinners, and similar events.

Among the highlights of the Saturday, October 30 schedule, will be performances by five high schools bands: Wilmington, East Clinton, Clinton-Massie, and Blanchester highs in Clinton County, and the Princeton High School Band from suburban Cincinnati.

In 1930, only 15.1 per cent of Ohio's population was classed as farmers against 26.10 per cent in 1910. —AP

Equity in farms shows increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The equity that owners of American farms held in their property last year "continued to climb as the increase in the value of assets outran the rise in debt against the assets," a new Agriculture Department study says.

Equity on Jan. 1 this year totalled $494.8 billion in current dollars which was more than the total inflated assets were worth just two years before, the study reported.

The annual study, called "Balance Sheet of the Farming Sector" and prepared by five men from the Economic Research Service, only mentions in passing the various national farm policies that prevailed during the two periods.

Calculating the asset value using constant 1967 dollars, the value has risen 21.6 per cent since the end of World War II. In current dollars, the report said, the value of farm assets increased 12 per cent in 1975 to a total of $585.4 billion.

On the other side of the ledger, outstanding farm debt increased 11 per cent in current dollars to $90.6 billion. Figures in 1967 dollars were not given, but the report said the change was "about the average rise of the past."

By way of Jan. 1 comparisons, using 1967 dollars, total U.S. farm assets were valued at $207.2 billion in 1940, $225.5 billion in 1945, $240.6 billion in 1950, $257.8 billion in 1955, $261.4 billion in 1960, $265.1 billion in 1965 and $273.6 billion in 1970.

Corn estimate stays unchanged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Surveys of field conditions as of Oct. 1 left unchanged the Ohio Crop Reporting Service's estimate that the state's corn production this year will hit a record 378 million bushels.

"Farm real estate was again the prime mover in the asset-value increase, accounting for 80 per cent of the total rise," the report on 1975 said.

Charts showed that the average per-acre value of farm real estate increased 14 per cent in the 48 continental states between March 1975 and February 1976. The value was unchanged in Georgia but rose elsewhere by a range of from 1 per cent in Mississippi to 26 per cent in Iowa and Nebraska.

In dollars, farm real estate values ranged from $72 an acre in New Mexico to $2,852 in New Jersey.

Economic outlook remains mixed

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Association of Business Economists seems to think the current economic weakness is merely a pause in the recovery, but that a more pronounced slowing of growth might occur a year from now.

The 1977 consensus forecast is for continued expansion at a fairly even rate "at least through the second or third quarter," but accompanied by a sharp, 10 per cent rise in the Consumer Price Index.

"Curiously," they announced, "the consensus forecasts a continuous decline in the unemployment rate throughout the year 1977."

Meeting in San Francisco, the economists announced that an analysis of their forecasts showed them to be expecting a 1977 final-quarter decline in the rate of increase in real Gross National Product, profits, housing starts and spending for personal big ticket items.

The economists, whose forecasts were made more than a month ago, have had an uneven record. While they credit themselves with a fairly good forecast for 1976, the one for the preceding year, in their words, "is better forgotten."

Here is the breakdown:
—Gross National Product in current dollars will rise from $1,697,000,000 in 1976 to $1,855,600,000 in 1977. Those figures, however, included inflation.

Using 1972 dollars so as to measure both years by the same standard, the economists expect growth to be from $1,268,000,000 in 1976 to $1,332,700,000 in 1977.

—Consumer Price Index. "Our forecast of the Consumer Price Index provides an insight to how our respondents have built inflation into their forecasts." The peak inflation is forecast for the second and third quarters.

—Profits. Corporate profits before taxes are forecast to rise to $166.9 billion from $148 billion in 1976. That would be a 12.8 per cent increase.

The economists expect that profits will strengthen during the second and third quarters of 1977, followed by a marked decline in growth during the final three months.

—Industrial production. The rate of growth will tend to rise through the second quarter of 1977. "A marked decline in the rate of increase is forecast thereafter."

—Private housing starts are expected to grow only slightly in the quarter, more strongly in the second quarter, rather weakly in the third quarter, and to decline, in absolute terms, in the final quarter of 1977.

The Economists expect the number of starts for the year to total 1,656,000, compared with an estimated 1,480,000 for 1976.

—Unemployment. The forecast is for a 6.8 per cent rate in 1977, compared with an estimated 7.5 per cent in 1976.

The consensus of the economists is that the rate will decline in the fourth quarter of this year and that the decline will continue through each quarter of 1977.

—Interest rates. Higher. The median forecast is for a steady rise in the return on new issues of three-month Treasury bills. The rate is forecast to be 5.76 per cent in the first quarter, rising to 6.68 per cent by the fourth.

Summarizing, the consensus of forecasts is that there is less to be concerned with during the present pause than with the anticipated weakening of the economy during the latter part of 1977.

Rising prices and interest rates are expected to accompany slowdown in production increases, side by side with what would appear to be a contradictory improvement in the employment situation.

Ottawa was established in 1833 shortly after the last of the Ottawa Indians had been removed to their western reservation. At that time the city was called Tawa Town from an Indian chief, but when the town was plotted it became Ottawa.—AP

OCTOBER-PORK MONTH

With October comes cooler weather, harvest season, football games and hearty appetites. The National Pork Council has also designated October as pork month. Fayette County pork producers and their wives, the Porkettes, urge you to try a new pork dish this month.

Today's pork is leaner and meatier than ever before. This "meat type" pork is the result of years of combined effort and cooperation on the part of researchers and pork producers.

There are about 70 calories per ounce in lean, cooked pork. Pork is even recommended by the leading weight reduction organizations.

According to nutritionists, pork is an excellent dietary source of all the B vitamins, especially thiamine (nature's richest known food source). Pork is also an excellent source of high quality protein and iron.

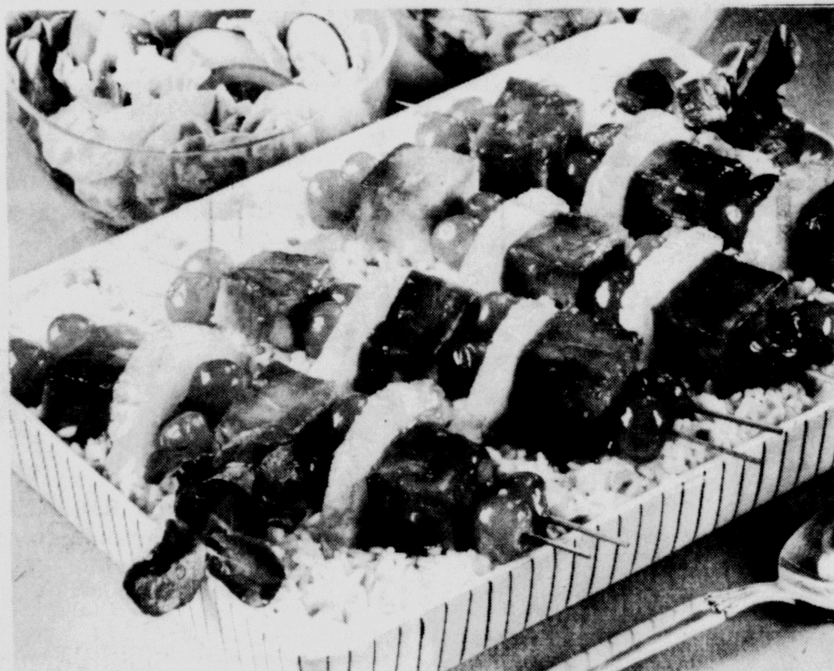

Team up some fall flavors this week with a festive combination of pork, apples and sauerkraut suggested by our newly organized Porkettes.

PORK CHOPS WITH KRAUT

6 PORK rib chops, cut 1/2-inch thick
1 tablespoon shortening
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup coarsely chopped unpared raw apple
1 can (1 pound 11 ounce) sauerkraut drained (save juice)
1/2 cup liquid, sauerkraut juice and water, as needed
2 tablespoons light brown sugar, packed
1/2 teaspoon caraway seed

1 teaspoon salt
Brown chops in shortening on both sides in 12-inch frying pan. Remove chops from frying pan. Add onion and apple to pan drippings; heat. Stir in sauerkraut, liquids, brown sugar and caraway seed. Arrange chops on top. Sprinkle with salt. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes or until chops are tender. Add additional water, a small amount at a time, if needed to keep sauerkraut moist. Yield: 6 servings.

HAM KABOBS WITH PEANUT RICE

1 pound boneless "fully-cooked" smoked ham, cut in 12 (1-inch) cubes
6 slices canned pineapple, drained and cut in half
17 to 32 maraschino cherries, drained
1/2 cup orange marmalade
1/4 cup catsup
1-1/2 teaspoons vinegar
Peanut Rice (recipe follows)
Prepare kabobs. Thread 2 bamboo skewers through each food to keep it from falling off or twisting during cooking. Hold 2 bamboo skewers parallel and thread them through 2 cherries, 1 ham cube, 1 slice pineapple, 2 cherries; repeat 2 times. Prepare 3 more kabobs. Prepare glaze. Combine and mix marmalade, catsup and vinegar in small saucepan; heat to simmering stage. Place kabobs on broiler pan. Brush kabobs with sauce. Broil about 4 inches from heat source 4 to 5 minutes. Turn kabobs; brush with sauce and broil until meat is thoroughly heated, 4 to 5 minutes. Place kabobs on Peanut Rice and pour any remaining glaze over kabobs. Yield: 4 servings.

PEANUT RICE
Cook 4 servings of rice as directed on package label; drain and mix with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Stir in 1/4 to 1-3 cup chopped salted peanuts. Add salt to taste. Yield: 4 servings.

SEASON WITH PORK

This week the Fayette County Porkettes urge you to put pork on your shopping list. Not only is pork a good buy this fall, but it's good for you and easy to prepare.

Production is up this fall making lower consumer prices. Improvements in pork's leanness and nutritional value during the past few years makes pork a doubly good buy for you and your family. There are fewer than 70 calories per ounce in cooked pork and pork is an excellent source of thiamine.

A pork favorite for many families is ham. They choose ham for a variety of reasons - holiday tradition, convenience of preparation, and of course, for its popular fine smoked flavor. Another reason is they know it's cost per serving that really counts and that a baked ham provides more flavor-packed servings per pound than poultry or many other meat cuts.

Ham can come to the table in many appetizing ways. Try this glamorous and simple variation suggested by the Porkettes.

RL No. 3, Washington C. H.

The first public building to be erected of stone in the Ohio country was built at Chillicothe in 1800 by Maj. William Rutledge, a Revolutionary War soldier. It served at various times as the capitol of the Northwest Territory, residence, gambling house, court house, church, singing school, and in 1802 Ohio's first constitutional convention met there.

Members asked many questions and the candidates gave informative answers.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

"The most useful part of the whole funeral process is the moment of truth that comes when living persons confront the fact of death by looking at the body", remarked Dr. Erich Lindemann of Harvard Medical School. He added, "People tend to deny painful reality — to deny the fact that death has occurred. But when they experience that moment of truth that comes when they stand before the dead body, their denials collapse" — and a return to mental health is possible.

Respectfully

Greenfield kills Blue Lion offense in ancient rivalry

By MARK REA

After an opening surge on a 73-yard scoring drive, the Washington C.H. Blue Lions sputtered and finally died last night as the Greenfield McClain Tigers whipped them 13-6.

The Lions jumped quickly on top 6-0 as a result of their offensive running power. But, as the game trudged on, the Court House offensive machine broke down and couldn't come up with the final big play when it was needed.

The McClain defensive front four, made up of Joe and John Cannon, Mark Current, and Brett Robinson stymied the Court House passing attack and pressured Washington quarterback Mark Heiny into 16 incompletions and two interceptions.

The only Lion that had a good night offensively was junior tailback Jeff Elliott. Elliott rushed for 87 yards on 14 carries and also pulled in four pass receptions for 59 yards, resulting in 146 of Washington's 183 total yards.

Even though the Blue Lions outgained the Tigers, it was McClain who outplayed the host Lions. The defensive play of Greenfield, an aspect of the game Tiger head coach Fred Brisker expounds upon, strongly overwhelmed the Lion offensive giving the McClain offense the ball in scoring position at various times. Only two fumbles and three interceptions by the Washington defense kept McClain's point total to 13.

Court House began the game with fire in their eyes, ready to avenge last year's 7-0 stinging at the Tigers' field. The rushing of Elliott and senior fullback Ted Mercer chewed up 73 yards to paydirt the first time the Lions got their hands on the football.

Elliott's dodging and weaving outside coupled with Mercer hitting the line like a truck put the Blue Lions ahead early. Mercer grabbed the score on a one yard dive. The conversion kick failed and the Lions led 6-0.

For the remaining part of the first quarter, the teams were content to punt the ball back and forth with the clock ticking away. Early in the second quarter, the Lions went into their customary punt position when John Cannon blew in from left tackle and simply smothered an Elliott punt.

One play later, McClain signal caller Steve Weaver hit flanker Steve Cole with an 11-yard strike to tie the game at 6-6. Fullback John Dettwiller booted the extra point, which eventually turned out to be the winning point, to give Greenfield a 7-6 lead.

After the McClain score, the teams traded punts and interceptions until halftime and the Tigers still led 7-6.

That lead didn't change until late in the third period when the Greenfield defense forced another mistake. The entire front four of the Tigers engulfed Heiny in his backfield, causing him to cough up the ball on the Washington four-yard line.

Greenfield's premier runner, Tony Anderson, took the ball in from the four on the next play to give the Tigers some breathing room at 13-6.

The Lions, playing with that torn up offensive machine, did not choose to die easily, however. They provided their Gardner Park fans with some last ditch heroics, mostly on the part of Elliott.

With two minutes remaining and a fourth down and fifteen yards to go, Heiny dumped a desperation pass to

Elliott that thrilled the fans as he turned upfield on a 41-yard run. Two plays later, Heiny and Elliott were at it again with a pass play for nine yards that took Court House to the three.

But, that's where the machine sputtered and finally died altogether as the Lions couldn't punch the ball into the end zone for the tying touchdown.

Next week, the Lions play their final road game of the year as they travel to Wilmington to meet the tough Hurricanes.

Panthers glide to another big win

Slow-starting(?) Trace romps

By PHIL LEWIS

He wasn't happy with the first two quarters of play, but by the time the final seconds ticked away in the third quarter, Miami Trace coach Fred Zechman knew his Panthers had done the job again.

The job, breezing to another victory, was done on the ground and occasionally through the air as the Panthers routed Hillsboro, 60-0.

Despite the poor first-half start—poor if holding a 22-0 lead at the midway point is your idea of poor—the Panthers completely dominated both the offensive and defensive statistics.

"The linemen weren't crisp and we made too many mistakes," Zechman said of the first half. "The third quarter we played good football. I was happy with the third quarter."

Miami Trace pushed across three touchdowns in the third period, a total that usually comes in the first period. The Panthers have been averaging 24 points in the opening quarter in their last three games.

Thanks to the three-touchdown outburst following halftime, Coach Zechman was able to clear his bench.

"We used three completely separate offensive lines and 12 different ball carriers," the Panther mentor said. "Everybody played. We used two complete defenses. We'll get to see a lot of people on film in varsity action."

Those "lot of people" ran up 577 total yards on Hillsboro while limiting their Highland County neighbors to 67.

Running backs Rex Coe and Dan Gifford accounted for nearly half of the Panthers' total yardage. Both seniors broke the century mark on the ground.

Gifford and Coe packed the ball most of the way in the Panthers' uncustomary, late-start touchdown in the first period.

The Panthers got the ball on their own 14-yard line after a Hillsboro fumble the Indians had recovered an Art Schlichter fumble minutes earlier and threatened with a first down on the Trace 15. Exactly two minutes later the Panthers held the ball on the Indians' 14-yard line when Gifford went over the left end for the first score capping an 86-yard touchdown drive.

Coe got the Panthers on the board again with only seconds remaining in the first quarter on a three-yard run capping a 40-yard drive.

A fumble, an interception, a holding penalty that negated a 32-yard pass play and a roughing the kicked penalty kept the Panthers off the board for most of the second period.

Gifford tallied the lone second-quarter touchdown on a nine-yard run giving the Panthers their 22-0 lead at intermission.

Things went smoother in the third period as the defense continued to shut down the Indians' ground game and coach Mike Doyle decided not to put the ball in the air. The pass was the Indians' only effective weapon in the first half as the Panthers held the Hillsboro runners to minus five yards but a stiff wind and pass rush held down the throwing.

The Indians only got four plays off in the first 10 minutes of the third quarter as the Panthers mounted three touchdown drives.

Gifford opened the second-half scoring on a 15-yard counter.

After Bill Warnock dropped quarterback Tyler Woods for a seven yard loss—it was one of three sacks credited to the senior defensive end—Coe picked off a pass scoring seconds later on a 16-yard run.

The Indians ran only two plays after the kickoff again coughing up the ball, this time on a fumble recovery by David Creamer. Schlichter ran the ball in from four yards out giving the Panthers a 46-0 lead as the fourth quarter began.

Schlichter found Bill Hanners with a bomb to open the final period. The play covered 62 yards and Warnock scored from inside the five on the next play.

Quarterback Shane Riley entered the game after Warnock scored. He played briefly in the first half hitting on one pass attempt for 38 yards and directing the Panthers to a score while Schlichter gave his knee a rest. Riley hit another pass giving him a perfect 2-2 evening and fullback Neil Spears scored on a three-yard run to finish off the scoring.

Zechman was pleased his Panther quarterbacks had success with the pass despite the brisk wind and perhaps the best pass defense they have seen this season. Schlichter hit on five of 11 aerials for 114 while Riley was two for two and 49 yards.

Coe and Gifford finished the contest with 137 and 108 yards respectively while Warnock added 57.

The win gave the Panthers a 19-game streak without a loss, and next Friday they meet the team that beat them last, Circleville.

MT volleyball team out to even record

The Miami Trace Panther volleyball team will travel to Hillsboro Monday in an effort to improve on their 2-2 league mark.

The Panthers took both a varsity and a reserve match from Wilmington last Friday to even their record.

The Panthers will finish out the regular season Nov. 8 with a return match against the Blue Lions.

Strong 2nd half gives Circleville SCOL win

A strong Circleville second half gave coach Larry Cook's Tigers a 21-14, come-from-behind win over Wilmington Friday.

Two long Circleville scoring drives in the second half kept the ball away from the explosive Hurricane offense led by Gary Williams as the Tigers handed Wilmington its first league loss leaving Miami Trace at the top of the league standings. The Hurricane only ran 14 offensive plays in the final two quarters to Circleville's 37.

Williams put his Hurricane squad on the board first with a one-yard scoring run and kicked on the board first with a one-yard scoring run and kicked the conversion.

A Bill Mogan field goal from 33 yards out cut the Hurricane lead to four points, but Williams tossed a short pass to Todd Martin, who eluded Tiger defenders for a 24-yard score.

The Tigers, who have been crippled with injuries as of late, cut the lead with another touchdown before the halftime gun.

It was all Circleville and back Bill Mogan in the final quarters. Mogan, who moved from his regular fullback position to tailback, picked up 96 yards on the ground and kept the drives going. He scored the go-ahead touchdown on a one-yard dive in the third quarter.

Mike Brudzinski padded the Tiger lead in the fourth quarter on another one-yard dive.

The statistics were about even with Circleville picking up 213 total yards to the Hurricane's 194.

MADISON PLAINS scored two touchdowns against class A powerhouse Southeastern, but the scores were too late and too few.

Southeastern rolled to a 36-0 lead before the Golden Eagles got on the board late in the fourth quarter on a fumble recovery in the endzone by Dean McConnell and a three-yard run by Roger Mason.

Southeastern built the lead behind the running of senior fullback Brian Abbott and halfback Tom Hart. Abbott scored two touchdowns and picked up 95 yards while Hart rushed for 143 yards. It was the Golden Eagles fifth straight loss while Southeastern kept their record perfect at 6-0.

George Foreman beats Dino Dennis

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — George Foreman tried out some new tactics against Dino Dennis, but declines to elaborate on them. "I don't want to say anymore because I intend to stay in this business awhile," the former heavyweight king says.

It should be a long while for Foreman, who appears to have his fighting career back on track after his upset title loss to Muhammad Ali, a defeat he had so much trouble accepting that he didn't fight at all in 1975.

"I want to stay in there with the top contenders," said Foreman after pounding Dennis into submission in the fourth round in the second half of a nationally televised boxing double-header Friday night.

In the first half, Roberto Duran successfully defended his lightweight title with a one-round knockout of Alvaro Rojas.

Yanks' Martin predicts win

Reds open series at home

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ask Sparky Anderson who'll win the World Series and you'll get a nice, placid "I don't know." Ask Billy Martin ... and duck! "We're gonna beat their butts off," says Martin, the feisty manager of the New York Yankees who used to throw plenty of punches as a player and isn't pulling any punches now. "Who's afraid of the Big Red Machine?" he said of Anderson's Cincinnati Reds, who began today the defense of the championship they won last year against Boston.

Anderson, rarely one to display emotion, is being very pragmatic about this best-of-seven classic, perhaps exceptionally low-key as if the slightest ripple of superiority talk might come back to haunt him.

"I think the series will go seven games," he said on the eve of today's opener. "The games will be low-scoring and close."

Martin, conversely, loves to make waves—tidal waves.

"I don't buy all that National League superiority bull," he said the day after the Yanks, on Chris Chambliss' dramatic ninth-inning home run, won the American League pennant by beating Kansas City 7-6.

"When I played, we used to hear about what a great team the (Brooklyn) Dodgers were. Then we'd come up against them in the World Series and beat their cans off."

But what about the Big Red Machine that rolled over Philadelphia in three straight games to win the National League flag while the Yanks were going down to the wire in five games against the Royals?

"We're gonna start with the wind-shield wipers," Martin said, "then we're gonna take off the wheels, then we're gonna work on the radiator, then the carburetor ... we're gonna work our way right through to the engine."

Martin pulled a bit of a surprise move Friday by naming right-hander Doyle Alexander, idle during the AL playoffs, to start against left-hander Don Gullett and the rest of the Reds. Dock Ellis, who had been expected to open the series, won't go until the third game, Tuesday night in New York.

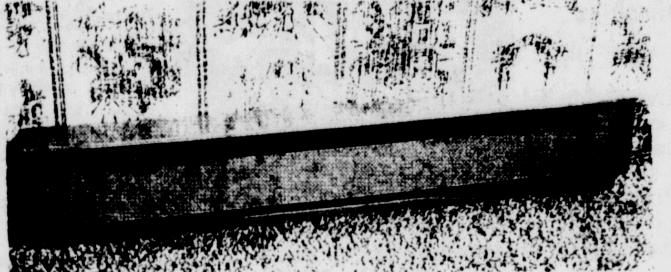

Ellis is a sinkerball pitcher, capable of forcing a lot of grounders. Those might be dangerous on Riverfront Stadium's synthetic turf but not on Yankee Stadium's natural grass. Alexander, conversely, is more of a junkman, throwing a lot of slow, breaking stuff that results in pop-ups and fly balls.

Cattish Hunter will follow Alexander in the New York starting rotation while Fred Norman will be Anderson's starter in the Sunday night second game. "If we get by Gullett, they're in deep trouble," Martin predicts. "We'll knock the hell out of their right-handed pitching."

It's the third time these teams are meeting in a World Series, with the Reds still looking for a title. The Yanks swept them in four games in 1939, then New York, coming to the end of one of its dynasty eras, beat Cincinnati in five games in 1961.

And it's the 30th World Series for the Yanks, who have won 20 of them and need only one more triumph to reach the 100-victory mark.

School burglary suspect bound over to grand jury

As a result of a hearing Friday in Washington C.H. Municipal Court, a local man was bound over to the Fayette County grand jury on a breaking and entering charge.

Tony E. McDaniel, 18, of 810 Leesburg Ave., represented by Michael Lander and John C. Bryan, two Washington C.H. attorneys, waived his rights to a preliminary hearing for a breaking and entering charge. He was then bound over to the grand jury by Municipal Court Judge John P. Case. McDaniel was arrested recently by

Fayette County sheriff's deputies in connection with alleged burglaries that took place earlier this month at the Eber Junior High School and Wilson Elementary School in Fayette County.

McDaniel is currently free on a $1,500 bond.

In the course of another preliminary hearing in municipal court, a charge of "gross sexual imposition" against Roger W. Wilson, 37, of 629 Fourth St., was dropped at the request of the prosecuting witness.

Spotlight turns to Ford, Carter

Heated barbs traded by veep candidates

HOUSTON (AP) — The campaign spotlight is back on President Ford and Jimmy Carter after a brief interlude in which their running mates traded sharp-tongued jabs in an historic debate that gave voters a variation on familiar campaign themes.

President Ford called Sen. Bob Dole after the debate and told him, "You were superb. You were confident. You hit hard but hit fairly." Then the President prepared to campaign in Illinois for farm votes.

After watching the debate in Kansas City, Mo., Democrat Jimmy Carter telephoned Sen. Walter F. Mondale and said: "Fritz, you did great, man ... you didn't get small, you didn't get mean, you didn't get twisted in your approach."

Carter called a morning news conference today in Kansas City, Mo., before leaving for campaign appearances in Ohio.

In his telephone conversation with his vice presidential running mate Friday night, Carter said: "I've never been so sure as tonight (that) I made the right choice. I was really proud of you. It showed tonight you're completely qualified to be president. I'm just glad I'm not running against you."

For 78 minutes, three more than scheduled, the two men who've served together in the Senate for nearly eight years, stood on the stage of the Alley Theater and tried to win votes for the men at the top of their tickets. Equally important, they were trying to avoid the sort of gaffe that might lose votes.

But both Mondale and Dole seemed more willing than Carter and Ford had been during their debates to let fly with roundhouse verbal swings at each other.

"I think Sen. Dole has richly earned his reputation as a hatchet man here tonight," Mondale said at one point.

"I get a little tired of Gov. Carter's antibusiness attitude," said Dole. "I know they get great support, monetary support from George Meany (president of the AFL-CIO). In fact, I've been suggesting George Meany is probably Sen. Mondale's makeup man."

Dole also took a shot at the League of Women Voters, the nonpartisan group that has sponsored all the campaign debates, three between Ford and Carter, one between Dole and Mondale. The third between the presidential candidates is scheduled for Oct. 22, in Williamsburg, Va.

Dole repeatedly referred to Mondale's Senate voting record, describing it as "a record of voting for every inflationary spending program, except in defense where he votes for every cut."

Mondale noted that the League of Women Voters had given him a 100 per cent approval rating for his voting record. Mondale said Dole's rating from the league was 50 per cent and Ford's 35 per cent.

"Either I was wrong half the time or they were wrong half the time," Dole responded. There was a stir in the audience, made up of league officials and invited guests. It was one of the few times during any of the debates that audible reaction was heard from spectators.

But Dole saved his sharpest jabs for Carter.

"I just wish Gov. Carter had a foreign policy," he said. "He doesn't have any."

He slipped in a reference to Carter's interview with Playboy magazine, which drew criticism of the Democratic candidate's remarks about sex.

"I couldn't understand why Gov. Carter was in Playboy magazine, but he was," said Dole. "We'll give him the bunny vote."

The two men covered the gamut of issues raised by Carter and Ford, sometimes giving their own variations, but generally sticking closely to the lines established by the presidential candidates.

Mondale hit at what he called lack of leadership from the Ford administration and at the state of the economy, which he said was "in very, very bad shape." He described it as on the verge of "raging inflation."

In foreign policy, Mondale said Ford's statement denying there is Soviet domination of Eastern Europe was "probably one of the most outrageous statements made by a president in recent political history." He also said the government was "pursuing a policy of permitting the vicious Arab boycott to continue in this country."

Dole said he thought the American people were being turned off by the Democrats' "promises and promises of bigger and bigger spending programs

Malek named to fill Chamber exec's post

The Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce today announced the appointment of George Malek, 528 E. Temple St., to the position of executive vice president.

Chamber president Glen R. Hemsworth made the announcement. He said the Chamber received more than 50 applications for the position which became open when death claimed Richard F. Kilian Aug. 21.

Malek, a reporter with the Record-Herald for the past three years will assume his new duties effective November 1.

Involved in city and county news coverage for the past two years, the 27-year-old Malek is well acquainted with the various organizations and committees in Fayette County as well as many area businesses and industries.

The Chamber has been without an executive vice president for the past two months. Mr. Kilian, a civic leader and former Washington C.H. resident, had returned to accept the Chamber position in Dec., 1975. He had retired from the National Cash Register Co. division plant in Mount Joy, Pa.

The executive vice president is responsible for the daily operations of the Chamber. His duties include representing the Fayette County business community, serving as a liaison between business and government, promoting and helping to coordinate community betterment projects approved by the board of directors, and improving communications between businessmen and area residents.

A native of Cleveland, Malek attended Wilmington College where he majored in English and sociology. He has been a resident of the Washington C.H. area for the past five years.

He and his wife Peg have two children, a daughter Jeannette, seven, and a son Duane, 18 months.

Judge bamboozled by con man's story

PROSSER, Wash. (AP) — Impressed by a confessed forger's "astounding story" of bluffing his way through a life, a judge gave him one year in jail instead of 20.

Now the judge says the story may have been just one more bluff, and he plans to review the sentence.

John James Ryan, 42, of Richland, told Benton County Superior Court Judge Al Yencopal at his sentencing Wednesday that he had spent years working several jobs and attending a university as an imposter.

Yencopal said it was "the most astounding story" he'd ever heard. He told Ryan that if he put as much energy into rehabilitation as he had into bluffing, he would be better off out of prison.

Accordingly, the judge imposed a 20-year prison sentence, but suspended it, ordering Ryan to spend one year in the county jail and pay back $10,260 in forged checks. He also ordered extensive counseling.

But reporters checking Ryan's story could confirm only that he was in the Montana State Penitentiary — also for forgery — between October 1971 and May 1972.

A startled Yencopal said Friday he will ask that the case be "brought back for full review and verification." He said he's not sure what he can do, but added, "I would ask for review and see what I can do legally."

Ryan had told the judge that he studied medicine for about a year until officials at Gonzaga University discovered he had no high school diploma. On Friday, a Gonzaga spokesman said, "We've had plenty of Ryans here, but not this Ryan."

Officials at Columbia Basin College in Moses Lake knocked down Ryan's claim that he taught surveying there.

The Corps of Engineers denied Ryan's tale that he helped design three dams.

Officials at the Hanford Nuclear Reservation in Richland had never heard of him. Ryan had told Judge Yencopal that he bluffed his way into a job in a biology laboratory there.

But the Montana Pardon and Parole Division had heard of Ryan. They said he applied for a job as a parole agent — but had not been hired. Ryan claimed he was an agent in the investigative department there.

In his appeal to the judge, Ryan said that every time he became a success, he committed "social suicide" by forging checks.

Mike Casey, a counselor at the Mid-Columbia Health center who had worked with Ryan before the trial, said, "He's lived on the thin edge between phoniness and reality all his life."

Ryan had turned himself in to the Benton County prosecuting attorney last July, admitting he forged checks while working as an accountant for a concrete firm.

Castro target of CIA death plot?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro says he has access to secret CIA communications that lead him to believe the CIA may still be plotting to assassinate him.

In a Havana broadcast monitored in Washington Friday, Castro disclosed the existence of a Cuban double-agent who Castro said has been on the CIA payroll for a decade.

He said the agent received a message a week ago from CIA headquarters in Langley, Va., requesting him to provide details of a prospective trip by Castro to Angola and other countries next month.

Castro never said flatly that the CIA's goal in seeking the information was assassination, but he recalled the "numerous plans" of the CIA to assassinate Cuban government leaders.

"We suspect that the U.S. government has not renounced such practices," Castro said.

CIA officials were not available for comment.

A year ago, Castro said that during the 1960s there were 24 CIA-sponsored assassination attempts against him. A number of these were confirmed by a Senate Intelligence Committee investigation.

Castro said that those who believe "that the CIA has changed in the least as a result of the charges made against it ... are making a great mistake."

He said the importance of the CIA message requesting information on his travels prompted him to reveal the existence of the double agent even though "it means sacrificing a valuable source of information."

He said the agent "has kept the Cuban government fully informed of all his contacts with the CIA, and the equipment and instructions he has received."

Castro reported that the CIA tried to keep tabs on his travels by directing the agent to place a microtransmitter in the office of a key official of the Council of Ministers.

The forum for Castro's revelations was a funeral service for 57 Cubans who died in the crash of a Cuban passenger plane last week.

He blamed the CIA for the crash and said the Cuban government will retaliate by renouncing the 1973 anti-hijacking agreement between Cuba and the United States.

BETHEL, Alaska (AP) — A radio station thinks this western Alaska city of 1,000 can stand to "lose a ton" of fat.

So KYUK has started a program with subscribers signing up to lose weight. On the first day of the program, 300 pounds was pledged.

Progress reports will be read over the air with names of participants.

"We figured there were at least 200 people in town who wanted to lose up to 10 pounds each. That's our ton," said station manager Peter Twitchell.

Additional benefits include a reduction in food bills. Bethel's food prices are the second highest in Alaska, which has the highest prices in the nation.

City board to consider matter Monday

Shaffer to resign from CE post

The Community Education program's director, Hank Shaffer, 211 Sycamore St., has submitted his resignation.

The Washington C.H. Board of Education will act on the resignation during its regular meeting in the Middle School office Monday night.

Shaffer, who has served as director since the Community Education program was initiated here in 1974, has accepted a position in Oxford, Ohio, where he will be more directly involved in recreational programs. He could not be contacted Saturday morning to explain his new duties in more detail.

According to Kaye F. Bartlett, chairman of the Community Education executive committee, said the resignation came as a surprise to the committee during its meeting Thursday.

Bartlett said the committee received the announcement with regret. He added that Shaffer had done a commendable job of getting the community Education program "off the ground."

Initiating as large a program as Community Education has been is not an easy task, Bartlett stressed. He noted that the director's contract is renewed on a semi-monthly basis and this uncertainty of employment may have been a factor in Shaffer's acceptance of a position elsewhere.

Bartlett said the committee is very appreciative of Shaffer's dedication to the program and wishes him well in his new venture.

He added that no action has yet been taken toward filling the position.

Tobacco may be helpful to health

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tobacco could turn out to be beneficial to world health, research at the Agricultural Research Service station in nearby Beltsville, Md., indicates. Between 12 to 17 per cent of a tobacco plant is high-quality protein that can be extracted and converted to human and animal food through a process called "homogenized leaf curing," the researchers report.

At the same time, says Dr. T. C. Tso, who developed the process, some of the chemicals in tobacco that produce pollutants and unhealthy substances for smokers and nonsmokers are removed.

Tso said in a telephone interview Friday that his team currently is trying to link each element "in the smoke that is considered undesirable" with an element in the plant that can be extracted.

Some of the amino acids, the building blocks of protein, for example, are associated with cyanide compounds present, he said.

As a research scientist, he declined to speculate about the ultimate impact of the team's work whether, for example, it will lead to eliminating from cigarettes the compounds responsible for lung diseases that have brought findings that smoking is dangerous to health.

He said that growing tobacco as a source of protein alone would not be economically practical. A soybean plant, for example, contains 42 to 44 per cent protein, or proportionately about three times as much.

With no increase in tobacco acreage worldwide, Tso said, he projects a worldwide production of 12.5 billion pounds by 1985, and 20 billion pounds by 2000.

But at current yield levels, his curing process still can obtain what he said is a conservative estimate of 20 to 40 pounds of useable protein per acre.

If his projections were realized, that would mean 750 million pounds of the protein by 1985 and 1.2 billion a year by 2000.

Depending on which of the several nutritionists' standards are used, that would meet the daily protein-consumption needs of between 33 million and 63 million persons, he said.

An ARS spokeswoman said that TSO leaf-curing profess was originally devised to save labor and improve the smoking quality of the tobacco. But it also makes possible the removal of a compound called Fraction-1-Protein, long known as the major soluble protein in all green plants.

Scientists have not been able to crystallize Fraction-1-Protein from any major crop except tobacco, she said, and that's only been feasible with Tso's leafcuring process.

The process involves softening the leaf through steeping into a slurry form. The proteins are extracted and purified much the same way as sugar is crystallized out of cane or beets while the rest goes into tobacco products.

Fraction-1-Protein is pure, tasteless, odorless, colorless, chemically stable and easy to store, Tso said.

Fraction-1-Protein's nutritional value is comparable to milk and, in the gel-like form in which it can be made for food use, surpasses soybeans, the ARS spokeswoman said.

and more and more inflation." He said the people are "looking for leadership, they yearn for leadership, and they found that leadership in President Ford."

The Republican candidate also said many of the problems, such as inequality in the tax laws Carter and Mondale cite in their campaigning, can be attributed to Congress, controlled by the Democrats for the past 22 years.

On taxes, Dole repeated a frequent Republican campaign charge that Carter advocates raising taxes for middle income families. Mondale countered that "Mr. Dole has probably the worst record in favor of loopholes of any senator in the United States Senate. Mr. Ford has one of the worst records in favor of tax loopholes in the history of the House of Representatives ... It is now possible for people of great wealth, by using complete tax sections, to avoid all or most of their taxes."

Watergate came up for the first time in any detail in any of the debates.

Dole mentioned the issue first. He was responding to a question about voter apathy, and he said, "They were turned off by Watergate. I'll say that word first."

Watergate came up again near the end when Mondale said that Dole had introduced a resolution in the Senate which attempted to require the Watergate Committee to hold its hearings in closed session.

"Well, Watergate is a Republican problem, and I voted for the Watergate investigation," said Dole. "My opponent was absent ...

Two persons arrested on check fraud counts

Two Washington C.H. residents have been arrested and charged with check fraud as a result of two separate investigations by Washington C.H. police officers.

Barbara Hughes, 24, of 1324 Grace St., has been charged with check fraud after she allegedly passed a bad $6.60 check at the Kroger Co. store on Clinton Avenue on August 23.

Also charged with check fraud was Larry Lewis, 30, of 1250 Rawlings St., who reportedly passed a bad $14.70

check at the Sohio service station, E. Court Street, on August 20.

A $50 bicycle belonging to Ronnie Blue, 836 Washington Ave., was reported stolen from nearby the Eastside Elementary School, sometime between 3:30 and 6:30 p.m. Friday.

Employees of the Hulkill Oil Co., 1-71 and U.S. 35, told Fayette County sheriff's deputies that at 4:14 p.m. Friday a motorist drove away from the service station without paying for $5 worth of gasoline.

Syrian president eyes peace talks

By The Associated Press

After snubbing earlier peace talks, President Hafez Assad of Syria agreed to attend a meeting in Saudi Arabia today aimed at ending Lebanon's bloody civil war, the official Syrian news agency reported.

Assad, who has committed 21,000 soldiers on the side of Lebanese Christians battling the Palestinian guerrilla-Moslem leftist alliance, will talk in Riyadh with the presidents of Lebanon and Egypt and with Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat.

Despite the announcement, Syrian forces continued their assault on the mountain town of Alep, 10 miles east of Beirut and the last Palestinian stronghold before the capital.

Clouds of smoke rose from burning mountain forests, and Beirut residents waited nervously for Assad's forces to drive the Palestinians back into the Moslem enclave of West Beirut.

Sources estimated that more than 500 persons have been killed on all fronts in the three days since the Syrians launched fresh assaults on Palestinian positions east of Beirut and the ports of Sidon in the south and Tripoli in the north.

Saudi Arabia called the mini-summit peace conference at its capital of Riyadh. The announcement said Saudi King Khaled and the emir of Kuwait would attend, as well as Assad, Arafat and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

Sadat and Assad have been at odds ever since Egypt signed the Sinai disengagement agreement with Israel in September 1975. Assad bitterly opposed that agreement and accused Sadat of betraying the Arabs. Arafat often has appealed to Sadat for help since the Syrians intervened in Lebanon in June, but he has received no concrete support.

The announcement from Damascus that Assad would go to Riyadh suggested Syria might feel the time is ripe to write peace terms between Lebanon's warring Moslems and Christians and bring the Palestinian movement under Syrian control.

Annexation bid on board slate

The Fayette County Board of Education will study a recent petition from St. Andrew's Episcopal Church and the Rev. and Mrs. Leroy Davis that the church property be annexed to the Washington C.H. School District at Tuesday's 8 p.m. meeting.

The small tract of land is located on Ohio 41-S and is surrounded by county school district property. Rev. Davis made his request to the Washington C.H. Board of Education two weeks ago and the board approved the transfer. The matter was turned over to the state board of education for final approval.

The board is also scheduled to consider financial assistance for an FFA trip to Kansas City, discuss possible dates for graduation next spring, receive a progress report on the development of the first Annual Progress Report to Citizens and to employ substitute teachers, custodians and student workers.

Trapshoot set for October 31

Top Mafia leader dies

MASSAPEQUA, N.Y. (AP) — After a lifetime of crime that led to the pinnacle of the American underworld, Carlo Gambino has died in his sleep. Vicious mob struggles are expected before the new vacancy in the leadership of organized crime is filled.

Police said family members and a physician were present when Gambino, 74, succumbed to a stroke at his Long Island mansion here Friday. He had had a history of heart trouble since 1953 and had been in and out of hospitals.

"Don Carlo," as the grandfatherly Gambino was known, seized overall power of New York's five Mafia families in 1969 following the death in federal prison of Vito Genovese. He had begun his underworld career as a rum-runner for the mob in the 1930s.

Since 1967, the stocky, grayhaired Gambino had been under deportation orders. A series of appeals culminated in 1970 in a U.S. Supreme Court decision letting the order stand. But by then Gambino's poor health precluded deportation.

"It would break my heart if I had to leave this country," he once declared. "I like it here."

Besides his $100,000 mansion, Gambino maintained a home in Brooklyn. Authorities said they could only guess at how much money he had when he died.

Gambino was born in Palermo, Sicily, in 1902, and entered the United States illegally at Norfolk, Va., in 1921, reportedly as a stowaway on a tramp steamer. The deportation order was based on his illegal entry.

Why do they watch?

The acquisition of Barbara Walters as half of the anchor team for ABC News may pay off handsomely in financial terms. The first day she teamed up with Harry Reasoner, the network's ratings took a phenomenal leap in key cities as compared with the average viewer total over the preceding four weeks.

A place in the TV sun

Coruscating wit has not been the hallmark of the presidential campaign debates thus far. An occasional snappy rejoinder, a few barbs, did brighten the second encounter, but nothing like the repartee that often graces debate in the British Parliament was in evidence.

This state of affairs might undergo a remarkable sea change were Eugene McCarthy successful in his efforts to get a place on the rostrum. The former Minnesota senator and two-time presidential candidate is a man of subtle and frequently scathing wit. His presence alongside

There is an initial curiosity factor. Even so, it appears that ABC News may have struck gold in hiring a charismatic woman to help anchor its main event.

The question is: Why? What is it about Barbara Walters that induces viewers to prefer watching her read the news - her beauty and charm, the simple fact that she is a woman, the glamor of that million-dollar salary? These questions touch upon a matter of some importance: the extent of genuine public interest in the news, which is central to the political process in a democracy.

Republican and Democratic standard bearers a place in the TV sun without any drain on their campaign coffers, while excluding all others from this boon.

The fiction that the debates are bona fide news events, as such exempt from equal time provisions of the Communications Act, is thin enough to serve as the Seventh Veil. Simple fairness argues for giving McCarthy and other serious, even if not very broadly supported, contenders a reasonable crack at TV exposure thus far preempted for the major party candidates.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Checked his guns on wedding night

DEAR ABBY: I just read about the girl who spent most of her honeymoon writing thank-you notes for her wedding gifts. Well, I've got that one beat. On my wedding night the dude I married sat up all night loading and unloading shotguns. When I finally got him to come to bed, all he did was fall asleep.

I should have known he was a dingbat right then and there, but he'd been awfully good to me before we were married; he was a perfect gentleman, and he never laid a hand on me.

He's a millionaire and hardly ever works. He bought me a car, a real fur coat and a diamond watch. I think he's a dope eater because he's high for a spell then fades fast. He's 40 and I'm 24, and have my whole life ahead of me. The big problem is that he doesn't care one thing about sex, and I do. He swore if he ever caught me with another dude, he'd kill me. I'm his fifth wife. Should I stick around or not?

EVERYTHING BUT LOVE

DEAR EVERYTHING: So far, your marriage reads like a Hitchcock thriller, but you'll have to write the ending yourself. Stick around if you like, but a man who threatens to kill is more than a dingbat. He's dangerous.

DEAR ABBY: While watching a baseball game with two of my girlfriends, some boys from another town asked us how old we were.

One girl said she was 13, and the other said she was 14. They're both 12.

The girl who said she was 14 was trying to get a boyfriend. I think if a girl wants a boyfriend she should give her right age, don't you?

TWELVE AND HONEST
DEAR TWELVE: Honesty is always the best policy. Lying about one's age can become habit-forming. Teenagers add a year or two, but after 40, they start subtracting.

DEAR ABBY: With reference to the letter from the woman who said she liked her neighbors but was satisfied with her own religion and resented their trying to sell her on theirs (Mormon).

That sweet woman had only to say to the young missionaries, "Thank you, but no thank you," and that would have been the end of it.

We as members are asked to extend friendship to neighbors, to tell them about the Gospel and to be missionaries wherever we are, in the way we live and act by example.

Our missionaries apply no pressure, knowing that man was given his free agency to choose his own religion.

We are converts to the Church of Jesus Christ Latterday Saints, and can attest to the fact that our conversion has brought harmony, happiness and fulfillment to our entire family.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 17

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Bow to the demands of present circumstances until you have time to really plan a new and more profitable course. Sharpen your fine mental gifts.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

Friends will be especially helpful now — especially in being able to supply some much needed information. Act on it immediately.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

You rarely "forget" an obligation, but right now you could overlook one through haste. Be alert to the fact and, with diligence, you will remember — and fulfill.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

You should have little opposition now unless you look for it — which you can do witlessly. Sow the seeds of good will and keep your counsel discreetly.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Be careful of details, dispel doubts

and a trend to misunderstandings. You can avoid possible friction if you are on your toes, thinking ahead every step of the way.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

If it is a day for rest, take it: Do not engage in needless activity and tire yourself beyond reason. In tasks, be thorough, but anxiety-free.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Planetary influences somewhat mixed. Be constructive in planning, tenacious in implementing. System with flexibility needed.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

You can demonstrate your ability to be original and imaginative now but, at the same time, concentrate on practicality. Sometimes even good ideas may not be immediately feasible.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Your incentive and vigor should be at a peak now. Your creative urges will also be strong, and may impel you to do something unusual and outstanding.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

You may have an annoying situation with which to deal, or some complex problem. But your optimism and know-how will turn things to advantage — if you remain up to standard.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You may have to revise some plans, change tactics, perhaps hold a conference or two. But, in the end, what you do well now will produce substantial dividends later.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Pisceans are noted for their extraordinary intuition, a gift which will prove invaluable now. A hunch could send you off into entirely new directions — with ultimate benefit and profit.

YOU BORN TODAY like the Scales which your Sign represents, are endowed with a great sense of justice; would make an excellent jurist, arbitrator or mediator. You have a great love of color and beauty but you are practical enough to realize that, unlike many other Librans, you probably could not commercialize art to any great extent. You would do much better in the theater, where you could shine as actor, producer or director. Also, you have unusual business acumen and could easily accommodate yourself to the hustle and bustle of a big corporation — and, with rather remarkable ease, rise quickly to executive status. Traits to curb:

moodiness and undue insistence on being the center of attraction.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 18

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Keep on your toes now. Sudden intrusions or interruptions in your work area will call for unusual diplomacy in handling.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

Venus influences beneficent. Take advantage by pressing on toward worthwhile objectives. Occupational matters especially favored.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Face possible changes with equanimity. With YOUR know-how and ingenuity, you can cope. Romance in high favor.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

You could make a profitable financial deal but, even if asked, keep the details to yourself. Some would gladly try to take advantage of your good fortune.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Certain complexities need unravelling, and YOU can right them. A good day for handling tricky situations, mediating disputes.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

If things are not going as well as they should, do not let matters rest. Pitch in and try to get them back on the right track. A new offer may be worth looking into.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

A pleasant surprise due. You finally receive assurance that your ideas are sound and will be carried out — bringing a tremendous increase in your prestige.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Don't head into complications: steer a clear course. Speak softly, but with decisiveness, and DO avoid restlessness and impetuosity.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Focus ambitions on an attainable plateau. Don't strive for the unreasonable. Negotiations scheduled? Engage in them quietly, purposefully.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Especially favored under day's somewhat unusual but, on the whole, friendly aspects: secretarial and clerical work; mathematics, science and confidential matters.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Your ambitions can be given full rein now. Map route for the coming week along sound lines. You are in a fine position to make long-range plans.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Poise and perseverance are day's top requirements. Choose the most appropriate goal, and plan for its achievement carefully.

YOU BORN TODAY are governed by the Sign of Libra, a symbol of justice, friendship and humanitarianism. You can accomplish a great deal in a lifetime, but must learn to curb your emotions and a tendency toward excessive pride. You have a lively imagination and a great love of beauty, but may express both in intellectual forms rather than in artistic ventures. You have a talent for writing which, coupled with a strong discriminatory sense, would make you an outstanding literary or dramatic critic. In fact, the theater in general is an excellent medium for your talents. Other fields in which you could excel: the law, statesmanship, diplomacy and business counseling.

George Grogan, a Pennsylvanian, was the first English trader in Ohio and in the 1740's he had posts on the Tuscarawas, Cuyahoga and Sandusky Rivers. In 1748 Grogan and a partner met Christopher Gist in what is now Choshocton. Gist was agent for a Virginia land company, and played a big role in early Ohio dealings with the Indians. — AP

Ford pays more taxes than Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford paid a larger share of his income in taxes than did Jimmy Carter last year because Carter was able to take advantage of a tax benefit tied to improvements in his peanut operations.

A comparison of the financial information provided by the two presidential candidates showed that Ford reported gross income of $251,991 last year and Carter reported gross income of $136,139.

Ford paid total federal taxes of $94,569 in 1975, which was 38 per cent of his gross income. Carter paid taxes of $17,484, equal to 13 per cent of his gross income.

Carter was able to take advantage of a business investment tax credit to substantially reduce his taxes. He also took advantage of income-averaging features of the tax code to further reduce his taxes.

Carter has made public his tax returns from the last five years. Ford has not revealed his tax returns but has released a statement of his finances, including the amounts of tax he paid for the past 10 years.

The bulk of Carter's 1975 income, $119,244, was from his peanut-seed

business, "Carter's Warehouse." He also reported $3,293 in income from his book, "Why Not The Best?"

Most of Ford's income, $200,000, was from his salary as president. He also got $50,000 from the presidential expense account.

Carter was able to reduce his taxes by claiming an investment tax credit of $41,702, equal to about 10 per cent of the $410,646 he spent for equipment for his peanut business.

While Carter has pledged to eliminate many tax shelters if elected, he says he probably would retain the investment tax credit as an incentive for business to invest.

Congress recently raised the investment tax credit from 7 per cent to 10 per cent after Ford recommended a boost. Thus, Ford indirectly contributed to a lower tax bill for Carter.

Carter also reduced his tax obligation by averaging his income over a five-year period. Since his taxable income fluctuated from a low of $50,195 in 1972 to last year's high, it was to his advantage to do so.

Without the income averaging and investment tax credit, Carter had a potential tax of $58,981.

Checking combine can save dollars

By JOHN P. GRUBER

County Extension Agent, Agriculture
Checking your combine efficiency may be a simple way to increase corn and soybean profits by several dollars per acre.

A simple 10-minute check of harvest losses will show how effective you are when it comes to getting every bushel produced in the bin. If your check reveals excess harvest losses it should be easy to make changes in combine adjustments and operating procedures to reduce those losses.

A reduction in soybean harvest loss by two bushel per acre will increase profits by ten and twelve per acre. On 150 acres of beans that adds up to over $1,500 increased profit.

Calculating harvest loss is a simple procedure. All you need to do is measure a 10 square foot across the swath harvested at the rear of the combine. In soybeans, an average of four beans per square foot equals about one bushel per acre.

In corn, an average of two kernels per square foot equals one bushel per acre. Corn harvest losses can really add up if the combine is not adjusted properly to shell all the corn off the cob.

Once you've checked your harvest losses compare them with the acceptable harvest losses. Desirable losses in forty bushel per acre beans should be 1.3 bushel or less per acre. In corn, the acceptable loss should range between .6 and 2.5 bushel per acre.

Losses less than these figures mean you are an expert combine operator. Losses greater than these require some additional combine adjustments.

Two leaflets available at the Extension Office explain in detail the various procedures to use in determining harvest losses at the machine head, in the cylinder, etc.

A RECENT report on 1975 Ohio Farm Income published by the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center and the Ohio Statistical Reporting Service shows estimated receipts from farm marketings in Fayette County were $43,863,000 in 1975. Over $25,000,000 came from the sale of crops.

OCTOBER 21 is the deadline for consignments to the first Washington C.H. Area Graded Feeder Calf Sale. Calves and yearlings are expected to be consigned from cow-calf producers in Fayette and six surrounding counties. This sale should provide some good quality calves to go into area feedlots fresh from local farms.

GRAIN producers will have an excellent opportunity to improve their understanding of grain marketing and available alternatives in a nine session grain marketing school this winter.

Enrollment in the school is now open and will be limited to the first 175 who sign up. The school will be held in Circleville. Enrollment fee is $25.

The Farmers Grain and Livestock Corp., headquartered in Des Moines, Iowa, has announced the appointment of a new representative in Fayette County.

Benny Backenstoe, 502 Lewis St., will be the representative in Fayette County for the corporation which is a consulting and advising firm on grain and livestock marketing procedures.

Backenstoe's duties will be explaining and assisting local farmers in understanding programs offered by the corporation. As a consulting and advising firm on marketing farm commodities, farmers can receive various alternatives from the firm which enable greater profits, Backenstoe said.

He will be working from his home in the new position.

NEW OFFICERS — The Fayette County Farm Bureau has held its first board meeting of the 1977 fiscal year and elected new officers. Wayne King, left, was elected president; David Owens, right is the vice president; and Mrs. Martha-Rose Wilson is the Secretary-treasurer. The board went on record as opposing proposed Ohio Constitutional amendments 4, 5, 6 and 7. It was the board's opinion that the measures are not in the best interests of the farming community or the majority of area residents.

Area farmers invited to college homecoming

WILMINGTON, Ohio — Southwestern Ohio farmers, farm feed and implement dealers and prospective agriculture students have been invited to join alumni and parents for a special agricultural program which is part of the Wilmington College Homecoming celebration this year.

The college's department of agriculture is planning a special "Introduction to the Wilmington College Agricultural Program" at one of the college farms on Saturday, October 30. Included will be a series of short presentations about the ag program, followed by a hog barbecue luncheon at the farm.

The entire group will then be invited back to the main campus to witness the traditional homecoming parade and football game between Wilmington and Hanover colleges.

The special ag program will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the college-owned Peelle Farm on Orchard Road, two miles north of the main campus, off Ohio 68.

Reservations for the luncheon, at $2 per person, must be received by the Department of Agriculture, Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio, 45177, before October 18. Admission to the football game is an additional $2 per person ($1 for students).

"We urge alumni who graduated from the College's ag program, parents of students currently enrolled in the ag program, prospective students, and local farmers and dealers to attend. We can promise both an informative and an entertaining time," said Don Chafin, chairman of the college's department of agriculture.

The Wilmington College homecoming celebration covers three days—October 29, 30, and 31—and has been designed for community residents, parents of students currently enrolled at the college, alumni of the college, and friends.

The three-day celebration will include special academic exhibits, several musical events including the performance of two original operas, a special discussion for parents on "Adjusting to College," plus traditional parades, bands, athletic contests, luncheons, dinners, and similar events.

Among the highlights of the Saturday, October 30 schedule, will be performances by five high schools bands: Wilmington, East Clinton, Clinton-Massie, and Blanchester highs in Clinton County, and the Princeton High School Band from suburban Cincinnati.

Equity in farms shows increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The equity that owners of American farms held in their property last year "continued to climb as the increase in the value of assets outran the rise in debt against the assets," a new Agriculture Department study says.

Equity on Jan. 1 this year totalled $494.8 billion in current dollars which was more than the total inflated assets were worth just two years before, the study reported.

The annual study, called "Balance Sheet of the Farming Sector" and prepared by five men from the Economic Research Service, only mentions in passing the various national farm policies that prevailed during the two periods.

Calculating the asset value using constant 1967 dollars, the value has risen 21.6 per cent since the end of World War II. In current dollars, the report said, the value of farm assets increased 12 per cent in 1975 to a total of $585.4 billion.

On the other side of the ledger, outstanding farm debt increased 11 per cent in current dollars to $90.6 billion. Figures in 1967 dollars were not given, but the report said the change was "about the average rise of the past."

By way of Jan. 1 comparisons, using 1967 dollars, total U.S. farm assets were valued at $207.2 billion in 1940, $225.5 billion in 1945, $240.6 billion in 1950, $257.8 billion in 1955, $261.4 billion in 1960, $265.1 billion in 1965 and $273.6 billion in 1970.

Corn estimate stays unchanged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Surveys of field conditions as of Oct. 1 left unchanged the Ohio Crop Reporting Service's estimate that the state's corn production this year will hit a record 378 million bushels.

"Farm real estate was again the prime mover in the asset-value increase, accounting for 80 per cent of the total rise," the report on 1975 said.

Charts showed that the average per-acre value of farm real estate increased 14 per cent in the 48 continental states between March 1975 and February 1976. The value was unchanged in Georgia but rose elsewhere by a range of from 1 per cent in Mississippi to 26 per cent in Iowa and Nebraska.

In dollars, farm real estate values ranged from $72 an acre in New Mexico to $2,852 in New Jersey.

Tomato sorter tested

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The tomato harvest gave scientists at The Ohio State University a chance to work with a labor-saving vibratory tomato sorter.

The sorter, developed by Dr. R. G. Holmes of the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, separates green tomatoes from the ripe ones as they are brought in from the field.

In use at the OSU Food Processing Pilot Plant, the sorter is handling six tons of tomatoes an hour.

Tomatoes go through the machine on two conveyor belts and go past a rotating cylinder. When set at the proper frequency of 50 to 80 cycles per second, the cylinder bounces the firmer green tomatoes off the conveyor. The softer ripe ones absorb the vibrations and remain on the conveyor.

Ultimately, Dr. Holmes foresees his invention being set up on the harvester. He said it does not take up much space and will cost about $1,000 installed.

Economic outlook remains mixed

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Association of Business Economists seems to think the current economic weakness is merely a pause in the recovery, but that a more pronounced slowing of growth might occur a year from now.

The 1977 consensus forecast is for continued expansion at a fairly even rate "at least through the second or third quarter," but accompanied by a sharp, 10 per cent rise in the Consumer Price Index.

"Curiously," they announced, "the consensus forecasts a continuous decline in the unemployment rate throughout the year 1977."

Meeting in San Francisco, the economists announced that an analysis of their forecasts showed them to be expecting a 1977 final-quarter decline in the rate of increase in real Gross

National Product, profits, housing starts and spending for personal big ticket items.

The economists, whose forecasts were made more than a month ago, have had an uneven record. While they credit themselves with a fairly good forecast for 1976, the one for the preceding year, in their words, "is better forgotten."

Here is the breakdown:

—Gross National Product in current dollars will rise from $1,697,000,000 in 1976 to $1,855,600,000 in 1977. Those figures, however, included inflation.

Using 1972 dollars so as to measure both years by the same standard, the economists expect growth to be from $1,268,000,000 in 1976 to $1,332,700,000 in 1977.

—Consumer Price Index. "Our forecast of the Consumer Price Index provides an insight to how our respondents have built inflation into their forecasts." The peak inflation is forecast for the second and third quarters.

—Profits. Corporate profits before taxes are forecast to rise to $166.9 billion from $148 billion in 1976. That would be a 12.8 per cent increase.

The economists expect that profits will strengthen during the second and third quarters of 1977, followed by a marked decline in growth during the final three months.

—Industrial production. The rate of growth will tend to rise through the second quarter of 1977. "A marked decline in the rate of increase is forecast thereafter."

—Private housing starts are expected to grow only slightly in the first quarter, more strongly in the second quarter, rather weakly in the third quarter, and to decline, in absolute terms, in the final quarter of 1977.

The Economists expect the number of starts for the year to total 1,656,000, compared with an estimated 1,480,000 for 1976.

—Unemployment. The forecast is for a 6.8 per cent rate in 1977, compared with an estimated 7.5 per cent in 1976.

The consensus of the economists is that the rate will decline in the fourth quarter of this year and that the decline will continue through each quarter of 1977.

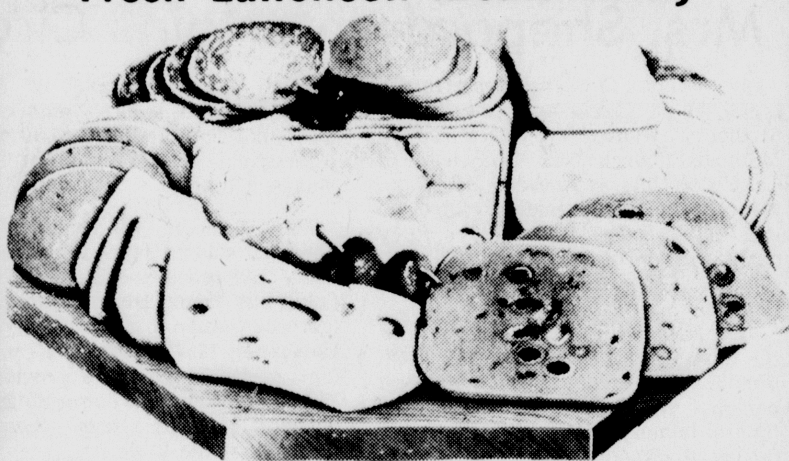

—Interest rates. Higher. The median forecast is for a steady rise in the return on new issues of three-month Treasury bills. The rate is forecast to be 5.76 per cent in the first quarter, rising to 6.68 per cent by the fourth.

Summarizing, the consensus of forecasts is that there is less to be concerned with during the present pause than with the anticipated weakening of the economy during the latter part of 1977.

Rising prices and interest rates are expected to accompany slowdown in production increases, side by side with what would appear to be a contradictory improvement in the employment situation.

OCTOBER-PORK MONTH

With October comes cooler weather, harvest season, football games and hearty appetites. The National Pork Council has also designated October as pork month. Fayette County pork producers and their wives, the Porkettes, urge you to try a new pork dish this month.

Today's pork is leaner and meatier than ever before. This "meat type" pork is the result of years of combined effort and cooperation on the part of researchers and pork producers.

There are about 70 calories per ounce in lean, cooked pork. Pork is even recommended by the leading weight reduction organizations.

According to nutritionists, pork is an excellent dietary source of all the B vitamins, especially thiamine (nature's richest known food source). Pork is also an excellent source of high quality protein and iron.

Team up some fall flavors this week with a festive combination of pork, apples and sauerkraut suggested by our newly organized Porkettes.

PORK CHOPS WITH KRAUT

6 PORK rib chops, cut 1/2-inch thick
1 tablespoon shortening
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup coarsely chopped unpared raw apple
1 can (1 pound 11 ounce) sauerkraut drained (save juice)
1/2 cup liquid, sauerkraut juice and water, as needed
2 tablespoons light brown sugar, packed
1/2 teaspoon caraway seed

1 teaspoon salt
Brown chops in shortening on both sides in 12-inch frying pan. Remove chops from frying pan. Add onion and apple to pan drippings; heat. Stir in sauerkraut, liquids, brown sugar and caraway seed. Arrange chops on top. Sprinkle with salt. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes or until chops are tender. Add additional water, a small amount at a time, if needed to keep sauerkraut moist. Yield: 6 servings.

SEASON WITH PORK

This week the Fayette County Porkettes urge you to put pork on your shopping list. Not only is pork a good buy this fall, but it's good for you and easy to prepare.

Production is up this fall making lower consumer prices. Improvements in pork's leanness and nutritional value during the past few years makes pork a doubly good buy for you and your family. There are fewer than 70 calories per ounce in cooked pork and pork is an excellent source of thiamine.

A pork favorite for many families is ham. They choose ham for a variety of reasons - holiday tradition, convenience of preparation, and of course, for its popular fine smoked flavor. Another reason is they know it's cost per serving that really counts and that a baked ham provides more flavor-packed servings per pound than poultry or many other meat cuts.

Ham can come to the table in many appetizing ways. Try this glamorous and simple variation suggested by the Porkettes.

The first public building to be erected of stone in the Ohio country was built at Chillicothe in 1800 by Maj. William Rutledge, a Revolutionary War soldier. It served at various times as the capitol of the Northwest Territory, residence, gambling house, court house, church, singing school, and in 1802 Ohio's first constitutional convention met there.

READ THE CLASSIFIEDS

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

"The most useful part of the whole funeral process is the moment of truth that comes when living persons confront the fact of death by looking at the body", remarked Dr. Erich Lindemann of Harvard Medical School. He added, "People tend to deny painful reality — to deny the fact that death has occurred. But when they experience that moment of truth that comes when they stand before the dead body, their denials collapse" — and a return to mental health is possible.

Greenfield kills Blue Lion offense in ancient rivalry

By MARK REA

After an opening surge on a 73-yard scoring drive, the Washington C.H. Blue Lions sputtered and finally died last night as the Greenfield McClain Tigers whipped them 13-6.

The Lions jumped quickly on top 6-0 as a result of their offensive running power. But, as the game trudged on, the Court House offensive machine broke down and couldn't come up with the final big play when it was needed.

The McClain defensive front four, made up of Joe and John Cannon, Mark Current, and Brett Robinson stymied the Court House passing attack and pressured Washington quarterback Mark Heiny into 16 incompletions and two interceptions.

The only Lion that had a good night offensively was junior tailback Jeff Elliott. Elliott rushed for 87 yards on 14 carries and also pulled in four pass receptions for 59 yards, resulting in 146 of Washington's 183 total yards.

Even though the Blue Lions outgained the Tigers, it was McClain who outplayed the host Lions. The defensive play of Greenfield, an aspect of the game Tiger head coach Fred Brisker expounds upon, strongly overwhelmed the Lion offensive giving the McClain offense the ball in scoring position at various times. Only two fumbles and three interceptions by the Washington defense kept McClain's point total to 13.

Court House began the game with fire in their eyes, ready to avenge last year's 7-0 stinging at the Tigers' field. The rushing of Elliott and senior fullback Ted Mercer chewed up 73 yards to paydirt the first time the Lions got their hands on the football.

Elliott's dodging and weaving outside coupled with Mercer hitting the line like a truck put the Blue Lions ahead early. Mercer grabbed the score on a one yard dive. The conversion kick failed and the Lions led 6-0.

For the remaining part of the first quarter, the teams were content to punt the ball back and forth with the clock ticking away. Early in the second quarter, the Lions went into their customary punt position when John Cannon blew in from left tackle and simply smothered an Elliott punt.

One play later, McClain signal caller Steve Weaver hit flanker Steve Cole with an 11-yard strike to tie the game at 6-6. Fullback John Dettwiller booted the extra point, which eventually turned out to be the winning point, to give Greenfield a 7-6 lead.

After the McClain score, the teams traded punts and interceptions until halftime and the Tigers still led 7-6.

That lead didn't change until late in the third period when the Greenfield defense forced another mistake. The entire front four of the Tigers engulfed Heiny in his backfield, causing him to cough up the ball on the Washington four-yard line.

Greenfield's premier runner, Tony Anderson, took the ball in from the four on the next play to give the Tigers some breathing room at 13-6.

The Lions, playing with that torn up offensive machine, did not choose to die easily, however. They provided their Gardner Park fans with some last ditch heroics, mostly on the part of Elliott.

With two minutes remaining and a fourth down and fifteen yards to go, Heiny dumped a desperation pass to

Elliott that thrilled the fans as he turned upfield on a 41-yard run. Two plays later, Heiny and Elliott were at it again with a pass play for nine yards that took Court House to the three.

But, that's where the machine sputtered and finally died altogether as the Lions couldn't punch the ball into the end zone for the tying touchdown.

Next week, the Lions play their final road game of the year as they travel to Wilmington to meet the tough Hurricanes.

Panthers glide to another big win

Slow-starting (?) Trace romps

By PHIL LEWIS

He wasn't happy with the first two quarters of play, but by the time the final seconds ticked away in the third quarter, Miami Trace coach Fred Zechman knew his Panthers had done the job again.

The job, breezing to another victory, was done on the ground and occasionally through the air as the Panthers routed Hillsboro, 60-0.

Despite the poor first-half start—poor if holding a 22-0 lead at the midway point is your idea of poor—the Panthers completely dominated both the offensive and defensive statistics.

"The linemen weren't crisp and we made too many mistakes," Zechman said of the first half. "The third quarter

we played good football. I was happy with the third quarter."

Miami Trace pushed across three touchdowns in the third period, a total that usually comes in the first period. The Panthers have been averaging 24 points in the opening quarter in their last three games.

Thanks to the three-touchdown outburst following halftime, Coach Zechman was able to clear his bench.

"We used three completely separate offensive lines and 12 different ball carriers," the Panther mentor said. "Everybody played, we used two complete defenses. We'll get to see a lot of people on film in varsity action."

Those "lot of people" ran up 577 total yards on Hillsboro while limiting their Highland County neighbors to 67

Running backs Rex Coe and Dan Gifford accounted for nearly half of the Panthers' total yardage. Both seniors broke the century mark on the ground.

Gifford and Coe packed the ball most of the way in the Panthers' uncustomary, late-start touchdown in the first period.

The Panthers got the ball on their own 14-yard line after a Hillsboro fumble the Indians had recovered an Art Schlichter fumble minutes earlier and threatened with a first down on the Trace 15. Exactly two minutes later the Panthers held the ball on the Indians' 14-yard line when Gifford went over the left end for the first score capping an 86-yard touchdown drive.

Coe got the Panthers on the board again with only seconds remaining in the first quarter on a three-yard run capping a 40-yard drive.

A fumble, an interception, a holding penalty that negated a 32-yard pass play and a roughing the kicked penalty kept the Panthers off the board for most of the second period.

Gifford tallied the lone second-quarter touchdown on a nine-yard run giving the Panthers their 22-0 lead at intermission.

Things went smoother in the third period as the defense continued to shut down the Indians' ground game and coach Mike Doyle decided not to put the ball in the air. The pass was the Indians' only effective weapon in the first half as the Panthers held the Hillsboro runners to minus five yards but a stiff wind and pass rush held down the throwing.

The Indians only got four plays off in the first 10 minutes of the third quarter as the Panthers mounted three touchdown drives.

Gifford opened the second-half scoring on a 15-yard counter.

After Bill Warnock dropped quarterback Tyler Woods for a seven yard loss—it was one of three sacks credited to the senior defensive end—Coe picked off a pass scoring seconds later on a 16-yard run.

The Indians ran only two plays after the kickoff again coughing up the ball, this time on a fumble recovery by David Creamer. Schlichter ran the ball in from four yards out giving the Panthers a 46-0 lead as the fourth quarter began.

Schlichter found Bill Hanners with a bomb to open the final period. The play covered 62 yards and Warnock scored from inside the five on the next play.

Quarterback Shane Riley entered the game after Warnock scored. He played briefly in the first half hitting on one pass attempt for 38 yards and directing the Panthers to a score while Schlichter gave his knee a rest. Riley hit another pass giving him a perfect 2-2 evening and fullback Neil Spears scored on a three-yard run to finish out the scoring.

Zechman was pleased his Panther quarterbacks had success with the pass despite the brisk wind and perhaps the best pass defense they have seen this season. Schlichter hit on five of 11 aerials for 114 while Riley was two for two and 49 yards.

Coe and Gifford finished the contest with 137 and 108 yards respectively while Warnock added 57.

The win gave the Panthers a 19-game streak without a loss, and next Friday they meet the team that beat them last, Circleville.

BROUGHT DOWN — Miami Trace defensive end Bill Warnock emerges from one of his three sacks of Hillsboro quarterback Tyler Woods (17). While the defense led by Warnock, Rex Coe and Dennis Combs thwarted the Indian offense, the Panther offense was rolling up a 60-0 SCOL win.

Strong 2nd half gives Circleville SCOL win

A strong Circleville second half gave coach Larry Cook's Tigers a 21-14, come-from-behind win over Wilmington Friday.

Two long Circleville scoring drives in the second half kept the ball away from the explosive Hurricane offense led by Gary Williams as the Tigers handed Wilmington its first league loss leaving Miami Trace at the top of the league standings. The Hurricane only ran 14 offensive plays in the final two quarters to Circleville's 37.

Williams put his Hurricane squad on the board first with a one-yard scoring run and kicked on the board first with a one-yard scoring run and kicked the conversion.

A Bill Mogan field goal from 33 yards out cut the Hurricane lead to four points, but Williams tossed a short pass to Todd Martin, who eluded Tiger defenders for a 24-yard score.

The Tigers, who have been crippled with injuries as of late, cut the lead with another touchdown before the halftime gun.

It was all Circleville and back Bill Mogan in the final quarters. Mogan, who moved from his regular fullback position to tailback, picked up 96 yards on the ground and kept the drives going. He scored the go-ahead touchdown on a one-yard dive in the third quarter.

Mike Brudzinski padded the Tiger lead in the fourth quarter on another one-yard dive.

The statistics were about even with Circleville picking up 213 total yards to the Hurricane's 194.

MADISON PLAINS scored two touchdowns against class A powerhouse Southeastern, but the scores were too late and too few.

Southeastern rolled to a 36-0 lead before the Golden Eagles got on the board late in the fourth quarter on a fumble recovery in the endzone by Dean McConnell and a three-yard run by Roger Mason.

Southeastern built the lead behind the running of senior fullback Brian Abbott and halfback Tom Hart. Abbott scored two touchdowns and picked up 95 yards while Hart rushed for 143 yards. It was the Golden Eagles fifth straight loss while Southeastern kept their record perfect at 6-0.

George Foreman beats Dino Dennis

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — George Foreman tried out some new tactics against Dino Dennis, but declines to elaborate on them. "I don't want to say anymore because I intend to stay in this business awhile," the former heavyweight king says.

It should be a long while for Foreman, who appears to have his fighting career back on track after his upset title loss to Muhammad Ali, a defeat he had so much trouble accepting that he didn't fight at all in 1975.

"I want to stay in there with the top contenders," said Foreman after pouncing Dennis into submission in the fourth round in the second half of a nationally televised boxing double-header Friday night.

In the first half, Roberto Duran successfully defended his lightweight title with a one-round knockout of Alvaro Rojas.

Yanks' Martin predicts win

Reds open series at home

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ask Sparky Anderson who'll win the World Series and you'll get a nice, placid "I don't know." Ask Billy Martin ... and duck! "We're gonna beat their butts off," says Martin, the feisty manager of the New York Yankees who used to throw plenty of punches as a player and isn't pulling any punches now. "Who's afraid of the Big Red Machine?" he said of Anderson's Cincinnati Reds, who began today the defense of the championship they won last year against Boston.

Anderson, rarely one to display emotion, is being very pragmatic about this best-of-seven classic, perhaps exceptionally low-key as if the slightest ripple of superiority talk might come back to haunt him.

"I think the series will go seven games," he said on the eve of today's opener. "The games will be low-scoring and close."

Martin, conversely, loves to make waves—tidal waves.

"I don't buy all that National League superiority bull," he said the day after the Yanks, on Chris Chambliss' dramatic ninth-inning home run, won the American League pennant by beating Kansas City 7-6.

"When I played, we used to hear about what a great team the (Brooklyn) Dodgers were. Then we'd come up against them in the World Series and beat their cans off."

But what about the Big Red Machine that rolled over Philadelphia in three straight games to win the National League flag while the Yanks were going down to the wire in five games against the Royals?

"We're gonna start with the wind-shield wipers," Martin said, "then we're gonna take off the wheels, then we're gonna work on the radiator, then the carburetor... we're gonna work our way right through to the engine."

Martin pulled a bit of a surprise move Friday by naming right-hander Doyle Alexander, idle during the AL playoffs, to start against left-hander Don Gullett and the rest of the Reds. Dock Ellis, who had been expected to open the series, won't go until the third game, Tuesday night in New York.

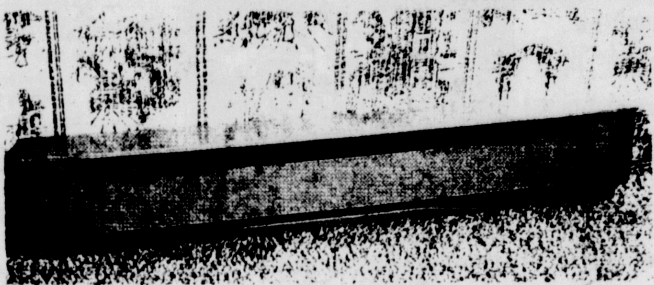

Ellis is a sinkerball pitcher, capable of forcing a lot of grounders. Those might be dangerous on Riverfront Stadium's synthetic turf but not on Yankee Stadium's natural grass. Alexander, conversely, is more of a junkman, throwing a lot of slow, breaking stuff that results in pop-ups and fly balls.

Catfish Hunter will follow Alexander in the New York starting rotation while Fred Norman will be Anderson's starter in the Sunday night second game. "If we get by Gullett, they're in deep trouble," Martin predicts. "We'll knock the hell out of their right-handed pitching."

It's the third time these teams are meeting in a World Series, with the Reds still looking for a title. The Yanks swept them in four games in 1939, then New York, coming to the end of one of its dynasty eras, beat Cincinnati in five games in 1961.

And it's the 30th World Series for the Yanks, who have won 20 of them and need only one more triumph to reach the 100-victory mark.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	3 NT	Pass	Pass
Dble	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

A strange disease has recently infected some of our top bridge players. It is called the gambling three notrump. According to this convention, used mostly in tournament circles, an opening three notrump bid (or overcall) is based not on a balanced hand containing 26 points, but rather on a long and powerful minor suit and without regard to the rest of the hand. Sometimes there is a high card or two on the side, sometimes not.

The convention has the great merit of serving as a preemptive bid if partner has a poor hand, and also often leads to a good result if partner has either a moderate or a very good hand. However, the convention is fraught with danger because, once a player becomes addicted to it, the urge to use it is almost irresistible. Unless both partners know how to treat the disease, it may prove fatal — as it did in this case.

The deal occurred in a match between Switzerland and Italy in the annual European championship. The Italian East opened the bidding with one club (artificial, showing at least 17 points), and the Swiss South overcalled with a gambling three notrump, which East doubled.

North should have rescued with four clubs — it was obvious that his partner's long suit was clubs and that notrump would be disastrous. But the fact is that North passed three notrump doubled, and now the fat was in the fire.

West led the queen of hearts and East took the ace, felling declarer's king. After cashing the king of spades, East returned a heart and the end result was that the Italian East-West pair took all the tricks to score a resounding 2,600-point penalty! P.S. Italy won the match.

New Hope for Colon Cancer

Cancer of the colon, or large intestine, has always had a high mortality. Scientific efforts to reduce the severity of this disease and the mortality have been the aim of many scientists all over the world.

A recent study released by Dr. Min C. Li and Dr. Stuart T. Ross of the Nassau Hospital in Mineola, N.Y., has been greeted with enthusiasm. These two physicians have reported a marked increase in the survival rate of patients with cancer of the colon and the rectum.

The combination of surgery and the use of a potent drug, fluorouracil, has been effective in attaining promising cures.

The drug, already in use for many years, is being tried with a new approach. The doctors are using this drug four to six weeks after surgery, rather than immediately following it. With this method, the drug seems to have increased effectiveness.

The study has attracted a great deal of attention and undoubtedly will be tried by physicians in other hospitals in an effort to substantiate these excellent findings.

Marijuana in a liquid form is being tried to reduce the excess pressure within the eyeball — a condition associated with glaucoma.

Dr. Keith Green, of the Medical College of Georgia, has found that eye drops containing derivatives of marijuana may be helpful in lowering this pressure. Dr. Green makes a very significant statement when he says, "It would be unfortunate if the possible importance of this drug were to be clouded by the notoriety it has achieved."

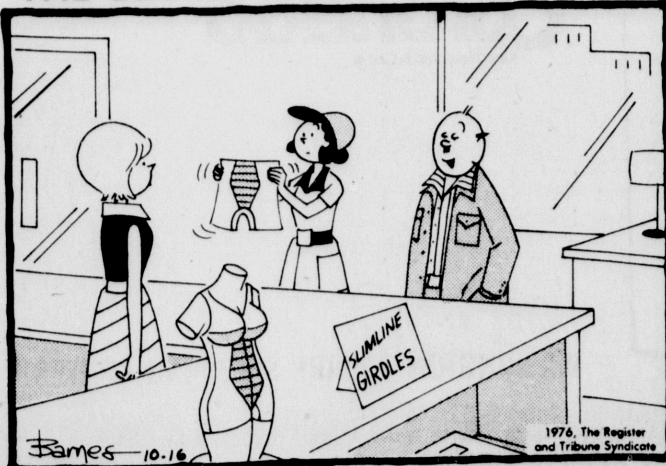

The value of cocaine as an anesthetic has been endangered by the abuse of this valuable drug. The potential capacity of LSD, too, as a positive contribution to science has been delayed because of "experimenters."

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH... Emotional tensions and family stresses can be responsible for the frequency and severity of accidents in and outside of the home.

BOY SCOUTS

Members of Boy Scout Troop 67 recently spent an afternoon folding tents, which had been used during the Bicentennial Camporal, and had been drying out at the home of Mark Hoppes'. After the tents were folded, a short meeting was held. Members told stories about the exciting things that happened during the Camporal, such as having it rain.

Mr. Sowash explained that Jack Hare would be at the October 27 meeting to teach First Aid. Members were asked what color they would like to paint the bus and they decided on painting the interior black, white and gold, for Miami Trace, with the exterior either camouflaged or white and black with gold stripes.

The flag raisers for Friday night's football game are Bruce Milstead, Lance Pollock and Jamey Hobbs.

The meetings was dismissed and everyone played basketball until refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were served.

BROWNIE TROOP 877

Brownie Troop 877 met Oct. 12 at the Milledgeville School for a meeting, which was called to order by Barbara Jacobson.

The Brownie Gold band was used to collect dues. Refreshments were served and a craft session followed. The girls drew pictures and glued paper punch circles on them. All repeated the Lord's Prayer for adjournment.

Death ends hospital marriage

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Death parted Dawn and Gary Lee Arnold on their wedding day.

Originally, they had set the ceremony for Christmas. Dawn's 7-year-old son, Jeff, was to be best man.

But last Friday, Dawn was hit by a car as she dashed across the street to catch a bus.

The injuries, mostly internal, left her in critical condition. Arnold stayed near her bedside in Sharp Memorial Hospital.

Although Dawn could only squeeze her fiance's hand slightly and move her eyelids, Arnold said they decided Tuesday not to delay their marriage.

"It was what she wanted and what I wanted," he said.

California law permits marriage without a license for couples living together if a clergyman performs the ceremony and if the couple signs an affidavit in front of witnesses. The signing was waived for Dawn.

A doctor said the wedding might help Dawn psychologically. A woman friend of the couple said, "Dawn's marriage to Lee was so important to her, I know. She was so much in love."

There was "definite communication between them, however impossible that may seem," said the friend, who witnessed the wedding Wednesday while Dawn lay motionless.

The Rev. Glen Anderson, a Baptist minister, asked "Do you take this man as your lawfully wedded husband?" Dawn squeezed Lee's hand faintly. During the ceremony, Jeff stayed at the home of his father, Dawn's ex-husband.

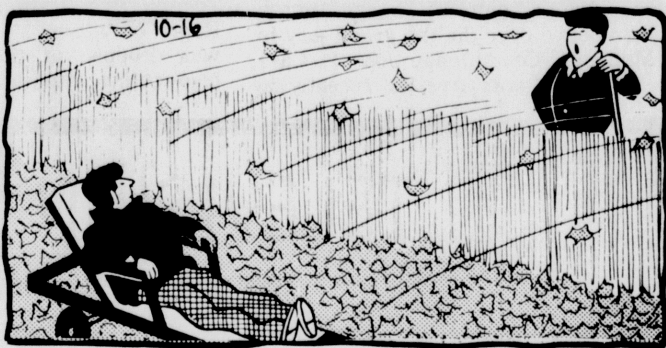

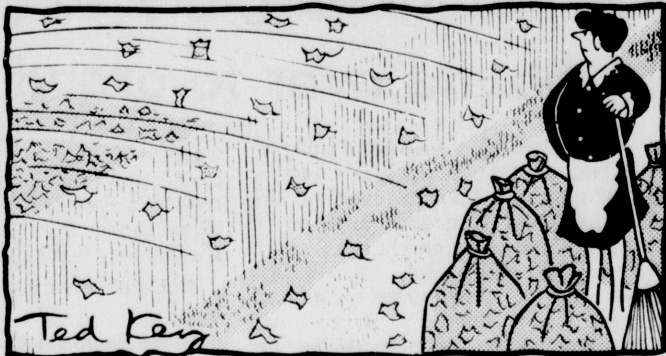

Arnold and a friend were at the hospital when Dawn died during a blood-cleansing procedure 12 hours after the wedding.

A private funeral was planned for Monday.

School burglary suspect bound over to grand jury

As a result of a hearing Friday in Washington C.H. Municipal Court, a local man was bound over to the Fayette County grand jury on a breaking and entering charge.

Tony E. McDaniel, 18, of 810 Leesburg Ave., represented by Michael Lander and John C. Bryan, two Washington C.H. attorneys, waived his rights to a preliminary hearing for a breaking and entering charge. He was then bound over to the grand jury by Municipal Court Judge John P. Case. McDaniel was arrested recently by

Fayette County sheriff's deputies in connection with alleged burglaries that took place earlier this month at the Eber Junior High School and Wilson Elementary School in Fayette County.

McDaniel is currently free on a $1,500 bond.

In the course of another preliminary hearing in municipal court, a charge of "gross sexual imposition" against Roger W. Wilson, 37, of 629 Fourth St., was dropped at the request of the prosecuting witness.

A hard freeze appears likely for tonight in Ohio areas away from Lake Erie as cold air moves into the state.

In the northeast part of the state snow flurries may develop as the cold air picks up moisture coming across Lake Erie. High temperatures Sunday are forecast in the 40s for the entire state.

A large mass of very cold air for the season is over central Canada and the Northern Plains and Great Lakes areas.

ACS chooses chairmen

NEW YORK (AP) — Syndicated columnist Ann Landers and actor John Wayne have been named leaders of the American Cancer Society's crusade which gets under way next April.

Miss Landers will be national chairman of the annual educational and fund-raising campaign, and Wayne, who lost a lung to cancer in 1964, will be honorary chairman, the society said Friday at its annual dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The society's highest award was presented to Dr. Irving J. Selikoff, director of the Environmental Sciences Laboratory of Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York; Elwood V. Jensen, director of the Ben May Laboratory for Cancer Research at the University of Chicago; and band leader Lawrence Welk for his volunteer work.
